

Americans in Spanish War Suffer Heavy Losses, Report

Almost Third of U. S. Volunteer Forces Are Killed

USUALLY IN FRONT

Madrid Regime Sends Foreigners in as Shock Troops

Madrid—(AP)—American volunteer battalions, used continually as government shock troops in the Spanish civil war, were estimated today to have lost almost a third of their number in death.

Reliable sources placed the number of United States citizens killed while fighting on the government side at more than 500, or 30 per cent of the 1,700 reported to have enlisted since the conflict started just 10 months ago.

A few of the volunteers were professional air pilots and technicians, and a few were soldiers of fortune, but the overwhelming majority lacked previous military experience.

The largest contingent of Americans in the service of the republic has been the 16th infantry, or Abraham Lincoln battalion, which members of the unit said was recruited in the United States.

This battalion originally was composed of 487 men who entered Spain last December and January and went into the thick of the action on the Jarama river south of Madrid on Feb. 12.

Heavy Early Losses

Only two weeks later, according to one member of the outfit, 147 men out of the 487 had been lost and many others incapacitated by wounds and sickness.

Fifty of the slain were buried almost where they fell near Tarancon, soldiers of the battalion said.

The first commander of the battalion was a former sea captain. He was succeeded by a former instructor of economics in an American university who was wounded in the Jarama fighting.

Then a man claiming to have served in the United States army took over command of the Lincoln battalion.

Members of the unit said their United States passports were taken up by the defense command when they went into service and passports of dead Americans are thought to be still held by the authorities.

Can't Take Up Passports

The usual custom is for the United States consul to take up passports of Americans dying abroad to prevent their being used by someone else. This has not been done in Spain, however, because, it was said, of difficulties in finding out even the names of volunteers, living or dead.

Most of the Americans fight under assumed names, with even the commanders guarding their identities. Many of them are said to have been issued Spanish passports under Spanish names.

A number of Americans have arrived in Spain since the ban on volunteers went into effect last Feb. 20. Some succeeded in crossing the French frontier on foot while others were halted by border patrols.

Girl, 11, Confesses She Set School Afire Twice

Waukegan—(AP)—William Greenwald, deputy state fire marshal, said today an 11-year-old girl had admitted setting two fires in the Mukwonago grade school because she "wanted a new school, and besides it was too quiet in Mukwonago."

The girl confessed, Greenwald said, the fire on April 23 which resulted in the death by suffocation from smoke of Orren Perkins, school janitor, as he fought the flames with a hand extinguisher. The second fire was on May 10. Both blazes began in a closet in the fifth and sixth grade room on the second floor.

The girl will be brought before Judge David Acnew in juvenile court here.

Accuse Merrill Firm Of Unfair Competition

Washington—(AP)—The federal trade commission issued a complaint yesterday charging the Merrill Candy company, Merrill, Wis., with unfair competition in the sale of "candies so packed and assembled as to involve use of a lottery scheme."

We Nominate Rhubarb Pie

Newspapers on former President Roosevelt's complaining of monotony in his menus than cooks the land over hastened to suggest tasty, tempting dishes. Wallis and Edward to be Married June 3; British Royalty Will Not Attend

WEDDING JUNE 3

The duke of Windsor (above) former king of England, and Wallis Warfield will be married June 3 at the Chateau de Candé, it was announced today. The royal family will not be represented at the wedding.

Monts, France—(AP)—The duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield set in sudden motion late today the arrangements for a quiet civil wedding at the Chateau de Candé June 3, without benefit of British royalty. They will be married by Doctor Charles Mercier the mayor of Monts, in the presence of "those who have been with them" in recent months.

Herman L. Rogers and the London attorneys for the duke and Mrs. Warfield visited the office of the district attorney at Tours and requested a dispensation for suspension of these two French laws:

1. Public posting of banns, which the law requires for 15 days ahead of the wedding.

2. The law requiring that such a wedding be held at the town hall. It was indicated the demands would be granted readily.

The ceremony will be within the chateau itself, no member of the British royal family other than Edward will be invited and, apparently, no religious ceremony is contemplated.

The man who chose to be husband rather than king selected the birthday of his late father, George V, for his wedding to the woman he could not have as monarch.

The announcement, which made no mention of the coincidence in dates, said the wedding party would be confined to "those who have been with them"—the duke and Mrs. Warfield—"during the past months," and added tersely:

"There will be no members of the royal family present."

Right up to the moment of the announcement, many had supposed that the duke of Kent, Edward's youngest brother, would be best man.

Announced By Rogers

The official announcement of the wedding itself, handed to reporters at the gates of the chateau by Herman L. Rogers, said:

His royal highness the duke of Windsor announces that his marriage to Wallis Warfield, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Teakle

Alaskan Flood Extends Scope

Two More Communities Hit, Forcing Lowland Residents to Flee

Fairbanks, Alaska—(AP)—Ice-gorged rivers sprawled flood waters over two more Alaskan communities today, standing 14 feet deep for a time at Nenana and putting lowland residents to flight.

No loss of life was reported either from Nenana or Fort Yukon where a four-foot depth was reached. A flood earlier struck Fairbanks.

"A motor boat is now running around in my yard," radio-phoned Ray Randall, United States marshal's deputy from Fort Yukon.

The flood started Saturday and still continues but it's slowly dropping. The water is four feet deep in my house. I have moved upstairs with my radio outfit. I have no fire so must go to bed to keep warm.

Fort Yukon, a trading post 150 miles northwest of here at the junction of the Yukon and Porcupine rivers, has a few hundred inhabitants, including trappers and miners. The residential district of Nenana, 50 miles southwest of here, lay deep in the overflow of the Tanana river. Water ran through the business section and railroad yards. Nenana's population is less than 1,000. It is a shipping point for boats plying in the Yukon.

Beloit—(AP)—Meyer Adelman presented today demands of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, a C. I. O. affiliate, for exclusive bargaining rights at the Fairbanks, Morse and Co. Beloit's largest factory.

Adelman, district C. I. O. organizer for the steel industry, met with company officials and about 83 C. I. O. stewards.

Ban on Trading Stamps Killed In Upper House

Lost After Last-Minute Shift in Sentiment On Proposal

HAS ASSEMBLY O. K.

Would Have Prohibited Stamps on Nationally Advertised Goods

Madison—(AP)—The Young bill to restrict issuance of trading stamps, approved by the assembly, met defeat in the senate today, 19 to 14, after a long, acrid debate.

The measure would have prevented stores from giving stamps on any trademarked goods for which the price is nationally advertised.

Although the senate previously had voted down attempts to kill the bill, a last-minute shift in sentiment brought a decisive margin on the motion of Senator Michael Kresky (D), Green Bay, for non-conference. The roll call:

For the bill—Boles, Clancy, Dempsey, Democrats; Cashman, Knab, Peterson, Hampel, Ingram, Kamenberger, Rissler, Rowlands, Rush, Progressives; Duell, Nelson, Shearer, Republicans—14.

Against the bill—Anderson, Busby, Kresky, Leverich, McDermid, Panzer, Paulson, Severson, Progressives; Callan, Galasinski, Morrissey, Sauld, Schoenecker, Zunmy, Democrats; Conkley, Mack, Morris, Roeder, White, Republicans—19.

Measure Assailed

Kresky, who last Friday forced a delay in voting by threatening a filibuster, declared the bill would be the "death blow to small, independent, struggling merchants."

Senator E. M. Sauld (D), Pembine, called the measure "malicious and vicious" and said "this is really a fight between the large mercantile establishments in Milwaukee."

Senator O. S. Paulson (D), La Crosse, said Wisconsin consumers benefit to the extent of $500,000 annually through trading stamps.

The Democratic leader, Senator Harris Boles, Sheboygan Falls, termed trading stamps "an illegitimate form of price-cutting."

Senator Joseph Clancy (D), Racine, called them "a lure and a deception."

The debate led Senator E. M. Rowlands (D), Cambria, to declare that "trading stamps, good roads and chain stores are making the small community store a thing of the past."

Senator Philip Nelson (R), Maple, ally of the Progressives, said the Young bill "dovetails into the fair trade practices act" and criticized Kresky and Paulson, Progressives, for their opposition.

Court Gets Niesen Recall Petitions

Judge to Determine if Papers Have Been Properly Corrected

Petitions asking recall of Mayor John Niesen of Kaukauna, returned to the petitioners last week for corrections, were back in the hands of County Judge F. V. Heinemann today.

Judge Heinemann said he would determine within a day or two if the petitions now meet all legal requirements. If they are in order, they will be certified and given to the Kaukauna common council. The council then must meet within five days and order an election.

The petitions are an outgrowth of an altercation in a Kaukauna tavern in which Alderman Jack Mertens, Kaukauna, was severely beaten. Time was returned to the petitioners last Wednesday because some of the signers failed to write in their post office as well as their street addresses.

A leader of the movement to recall Mayor Niesen said this morning that there are 961 signatures on the petitions.

Plan Labor Election at Ft. Atkinson Company

Madison—(AP)—The state labor relations board announced today it will hold an election tomorrow in the Fort Atkinson company.

The board is to determine what labor organization will represent a majority of the 1,200 employees of the Fort Atkinson company, which has come into the hands of the city of Superior.

Appealing for reconsideration of the bill, Hall contended the city faces bankruptcy unless the situation is remedied.

On motion of Assemblyman E. C. Peterson, Poplar, the house deferred a vote on reconsideration pending the outcome of conferences which were in progress today. At a late hour the Douglas county representatives had reached no agreement acceptable to the city.

Say Wallace Gives Support To Farm Bill

Agriculture Secretary Does Not Voice Views Publicly

COST BIG QUESTION

Proponents Estimate Between 287 and 766 Million Needed

Washington—(AP)—Sponsors of the new "agricultural adjustment act for 1937" claimed today the endorsement of Secretary Wallace, but most administration leaders reserved judgment.

Wallace and his agriculture department aids did not express their views publicly.

Chairman Jones (D-Texas) of the house agriculture committee said he wanted a better idea of the cost. Proponents estimated it would range between $287,000,000 and $766,000,000 a year.

Agriculture department experts sought to make certain it would not exceed the $500,000,000 provided for soil conservation payments next year.

"As I see it," said Jones, "we have a pretty good farm program in the soil conservation act, a privately marketed agreement bill now in the senate. I think we should go slowly and study most carefully changes in the present program."

Would Assure Income

Sponsors said the new program would seek, through loans on farm products and penalties for farmers exceeding crop quotas, to assure the farmer an income equal to that of similar workers in non-farming occupations.

President Roosevelt, who is expected to send a message to congress on power policy this week, surveyed the idea of a series of "little TVA's" and other power and flood control proposals with advisers yesterday.

The senate voted for a federal trade commission investigation of power propaganda, covering the activities of both private companies and government agencies.

The house, considering a $116,000,000 appropriation for the interior department, tentatively approved yesterday expenditures of $8,250,000 for reclamation.

Assembly Approves Sterilization Bill

Madison—(AP)—The Kiefer bill setting up a more stringent sterilization law in Wisconsin was revived by the assembly and passed today.

Although it had been defeated a week ago, the house reconsidered and sent the measure to the senate by the margin of a single vote. The roll call was 45 to 44.

The proposal takes away from the state board of control a discretionary power it now has to order sterilization operations for inmates of state institutions or mental defectives. Instead, it creates a board of examining physicians to determine whether sterilization should be ordered in the case of each inmate who is paroled.

It also permits persons outside state institutions to submit to voluntary sterilization.

The bill was sponsored by Assemblyman Edward J. Kiefer (R), Milwaukee, at the request of the Wisconsin Race Conservation society.

Consider Compromise On Hall Scrip Bill

Madison—(AP)—Legislative representatives of Superior and Douglas counties started negotiations today for a possible compromise on the Hall scrip bill killed by the assembly last week.

The bill, introduced by Assemblyman Michael Hall, seeks to prevent the county waiving interest and penalty on any delinquent taxes pledged as security for county scrip which has come into the hands of the city of Superior.

Appealing for reconsideration of the bill, Hall contended the city faces bankruptcy unless the situation is remedied.

On motion of Assemblyman E. C. Peterson, Poplar, the house deferred a vote on reconsideration pending the outcome of conferences which were in progress today. At a late hour the Douglas county representatives had reached no agreement acceptable to the city.

Woman Fatally Shot in New York Gun Battle

New York—(AP)—Mrs. Jennie Burleson, 50, of the Bronx, died today from a wound received last night during a gun battle between policemen and one of two men who neighbors had reported were acting suspiciously near a liquor store.

Mrs. Burleson was out walking at the time she was shot. One of the men surrendered after the shooting. He gave his name as Joseph Lucas, 20.

Van Devanter to Quit Court June 2; Senate Group Against Packing

Judiciary Committee Votes Adverse Report, 10 to 8

BEAT AMENDMENTS

Compromise After Compromise Turned Down at Session

Washington—(AP)—The senate judiciary committee voted 10 to 8 today to report the Roosevelt court bill adversely to the senate.

First members to emerge from the committee session said all amendments, except a few clarifying changes, were rejected by the dominant opposition majority.

The vote, taken in executive session shortly after announcement of the retirement of Justice Van Devanter, came out just as it had been forecast for more than a week.

For almost two hours, the committee voted down compromise after compromise.

Senator Borah (R-Ida.), one of the leading foes of the president's bill, stepped out of the committee room to tell newspapermen:

"Ten to eight adversely."

Vote As Forecast

The line-up on the final vote, Borah said, was just as it had been forecast—with seven Democrats and three Republicans opposing the presidential measure to increase the size of the supreme court.

Seven Democrats and Senator Norris, the lone independent, voted for the bill.

Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz.) told reporters who jammed into the committee room that the long series of amendments and compromise proposals had been rejected in rapid succession before the president's bill was put to a vote.

Those voting to report the president's bill favorably, he said, were Senators Neely, Logan, Dieterich, McGill, Pittman, Hughes, Norris and Ashurst.

Those against were Senators King, McCarran, Van Nuys, Hatch, Burke, Connally, O'Mahoney, Borah, Austin and Stewer.

Norris' Plan Beaten

Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz.) said that Norris' proposal to require more than a two-thirds majority of the court to invalidate acts of congress was the first voted down, 6 to 12. Members favoring this plan

Road Cleared for Development Bill

Opposition in Assembly Prevents Passage for Two More Days

Madison—(AP)—The administration's Wisconsin Development authority bill cleared another hurdle in the assembly today but the opposition prevented its passage for two more days.

By a vote of 55 to 34, the house defeated a motion by Assemblyman William Rohan (D), Kaukauna, to reconsider the action by which the measure was engrossed, giving virtual assurance that it will be finally approved and sent to the senate this week.

The bill provides for government encouragement of the development of authority—a privately incorporated organization like TVA which is empowered to carry on a state program of public ownership of utilities.

After refusal to reconsider the engrossment vote, Assemblyman Andrew J. Biemiller (D), Milwaukee, author of the bill, proposed to amend the rules and send the measure to the senate.

Assemblyman Milton T. Murray (R), Milwaukee, objected. The house then adopted Biemiller's motion that it be made a special order of business at 10:30 a. m. Thursday.

Lansing, Mich.—(AP)—Governor Murphy today announced the appointment of Marvin Coon of Escanaba, Mich., as warden of the branch prison at Marquette, Mich.

Coon succeeds Walter F. Gies, resigned. Coon, formerly connected with the state liquor control commission in the upper peninsula, at present is northern representative of the Federal Housing administration.

John W. Miner of Jackson, Mich., was elected chairman of the state prison commission in a reorganization which followed a meeting with the governor. He succeeds Leslie P. Keizer, who will remain as a member of the board.

Suitor Accused of Helping Mother Attack Children

New York Police Reveal Confession of Alleged Slayer

New York—(AP)—District Attorney L. Barron Hill of Suffolk county announced today that Mrs. Helen Tiernan, 25-year-old widow, had absolved George Christodoulus, her suitor, of any connection with the "babes in the wood" slaying of her 7-year-old daughter, and had told him, "I did it all alone."

New York—(AP)—Police disclosed today the full confession of how Mrs. Helen Tiernan allegedly killed with knife and fire her 7-year-old daughter and attempted to kill her 4-year-old son, because there wasn't room enough in her 3-room apartment for the comely, blond widow and her Greek sweetheart.

The mother, 25, is held on a charge of homicide, while her suitor, George Christodoulus, 30, is accused of acting in concert with her.

The mother's confession, made public by assistant District Attorney Salvatore Consentino, accused Christodoulus of plotting with her the deaths in a lonely thicket on Long Island's south shore where the children were taken on the promise of being given a picnic.

Pacing his cell at police headquarters Christodoulus muttered, as Mrs. Tiernan's purported confession was read to him, "I did not. I never done that."

Struck First Blow?

But, her confession, as read by the assistant district attorney, said that he suggested the crime and struck the first of a rain of hatchet blows which brought first blood in the gruesome tragedy.

The body of Mrs. Tiernan's daughter, Helen, was discovered Sunday, only a few hours after she was

Milwaukee Measure Is Defeated in Assembly

Madison—(AP)—The assembly killed, 30 to 33, today the bill of Assemblyman Andrew J. Biemiller (D), Milwaukee, to permit Mayor Hoan to appoint members of the Milwaukee board of fire and police commissioners without confirmation by the common council.

The Milwaukee delegation was split on the bill and it was defeated largely on the votes of assemblymen from outlying districts.

The opponents claimed it established a dangerous precedent that would give the mayor absolute control of the fire and police departments. Biemiller said it had been admitted Hoan always made good appointments but "such the non-partisan council we now have it is doubtful whether he will continue to receive cooperation from that body."

Retirement Clears Way For First Roosevelt Appointment

CITES LONG SERVICE

78-Year-Old Justice on High Court Bench 26 Years

Washington—(AP)—Associate Justice Willis Van Devanter announced today his retirement from the supreme court, effective June 2, thus clearing the way for President Roosevelt to make his first appointment to the high bench.

The 78-year-old justice, who has served 26 years in the court made known his intention in a letter to the president.

Mr. Roosevelt immediately wrote a brief acknowledgment in long hand extending to the jurist "every good wish" and inviting him to call at the White House before he leaves Washington.

The president's letter said: "My dear Mr. Justice Van Devanter:

"I have received your letter this morning, telling me that you are retiring from regular active service on the bench on June 2, 1937."

"May I as one who has had the privilege of knowing you for many years, extend to you every good wish."

"Before you leave Washington for the summer it would give me great personal pleasure if you would come in to see me."

"Very Sincerely yours, (Signed) 'Franklin D. Roosevelt.'"

Officials vested with high authority said there probably would be no more retirement from the court at this time. But others said that before the beginning of the fall term of the court in October, Justice Sutherland might take advantage of the retirement act.

Others Eligible

Four other justices are eligible for "retirement"—Chief Justice Hughes and Associate Justices McReynolds, Brandeis and Butler.

Chief Justice Hughes called the retirement of Van Devanter a "most serious loss" to the court.

In a statement the chief justice said:

"His long judicial experience, his extraordinary memory and grasp of precedents, his acumen and fairness enabled him to render a service of inestimable value in our deliberations, while his equable temperament, his tact and unfailing kindness made him an ideal associate. We shall greatly miss him."

Van Devanter wrote this letter to Mr. Roosevelt:

"My dear Mr. President:

"Having held my commission as an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, and served in that court, for 26 years, and having come to be 78 years of age, I desire to avail myself of the rights, privileges and judicial service specified in the act of March 1, 1937, entitled 'An act to provide for retirement of justices of the supreme court,' and to that end I hereby retire from regular active service on the bench—this retirement to be effective on and after the second day of June, 1937, that being the day following the adjournment of the present term of the court."

"I have the honor to remain, 'Very respectfully yours, (Signed) Willis Van Devanter, 'The President.'"

"The act to which the justice referred permits justices over 70 to retire at full pay—$20,000 annually."

On Court Since 1911

Van Devanter has been a member of the court since 1911. Consistent with the retirement by the administration, his departure from the bench will give President Roosevelt an opportunity to select a successor—his first appointment to the bench.

There was instant speculation on Capitol Hill over the effect Van Devanter's action would have on

Glacier Threatens Alaska Roadhouse; May Block River

Fairbanks, Alaska—(AP)—Nature's freak nomad, the Black Rapids glacier, moved closer today to a roadhouse, moved three anxious people watched for possible danger from the ice mass. It also threatened to dam the Big Delta river.

Across the river from the towering glacier lay Black Rapids roadhouse. Proprietor H. E. Revell, his wife and son were alert for any sudden movement of the ice which would necessitate their flight.

The glacier was close to the river but Revell telephoned Fairbanks he dared not venture on the frozen river to measure accurately the distance. He said the glacier seemingly had turned upstream.

In February, the glacier was a mile and a half from the Big Delta. Its movement varied from a few feet to several yards a day.

Trout Fishermen Report High Water but Fair Luck

High water and fair to good fishing, a strange combination at best, are reported by Appleton trout fishermen returning from northern streams after the first three days of open season.

High water is reported so generally that some veterans predict that the business of luring a trout to a fly or worm will be much improved in two or three weeks. Yet others report that the most elusive of fish are biting with more enthusiasm already than they have displayed for the last two or three seasons.

There are those who maintain that the poor fishing in the last two or three years has something to do with the improvement this spring. Poor response to all types of lures discouraged many sportsmen and as a result, they say, trout had an opportunity to multiply, grow and develop appetites with less interference.

With the Menominee reservation closed to outside fishermen, some of the best trout streams in eastern Wisconsin are no longer available for general use, but the upper reaches of the Red river, above the reservation, got its share of trade during the last three days. Others worked the south and middle branches of the Oconto river or killed their fish in the Peshtigo river, the Pine river north of Cranford, Lily creek, Nine Mile creek in Langlade county, the Brule in Marinette county or Waupaca and Waushara county streams. One party of three from Appleton reported 43 fish in one day's fishing in upper Michigan.

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau)

Madison — Richard Johnson, Waupaca, senior at the University of Wisconsin, has been named by James Doyle, Oshkosh, class president, as chairman of the arrangements committee for the traditional senior ball this spring. It has been announced.

The prom showed a large profit, members of this year's senior class may escape senior class dues.

House Disposes of 45 Measures in 3-Hour Session

Wausau University Extension Bill Sent Back To Senate

Madison — The assembly entered upon a week of heavy work last night by disposing of 45 resolutions and routine bills in a three-hour session.

By a vote of 47 to 24 it sent back to the senate for reconsideration the bill of Senator Roland E. Kamenberg for a University of Wisconsin extension center at Wausau, his home city.

Kamenberg, a Progressive, has been berating the assembly education committee for pigeonholing the measure ever since it was passed by the upper house three months ago. It appropriates $165,000 from the general fund and was sidetracked on the advice of administration guardians of the treasury.

The bill was returned to the senate at the request of that body.

The assembly sustained Governor LaFollette's veto of the Young-Grobschmidt-Murray bill which removed the office of Milwaukee county corporation counsel from the jurisdiction of the district attorney and placed it under the county board.

Reason for Veto

The governor objected to the bill because it created two legal departments in the county.

The proposal of Assemblyman Ben Rubin (P), Milwaukee, for a constitutional amendment permitting consolidation of local and county governments was rejected without a record vote.

Other actions of the house:

Bill passed appropriating $1,000 for the creation of a state cooperative laboratory at LaCrosse.

Peterson bill extending operation of the forest crop law to villages.

Finance committee bill removing newboys and magazine carriers from the unemployment compensation law and making them eligible for protection under the workmen's compensation act.

Committee bill authorizing issuance of voluntary sportsmen's licenses at fees higher than regular licenses as a means of obtaining contributions from conservationists.

Bills killed—

Biehler bill providing for compulsory inspection of automobiles for safety purposes.

Biemiiller bill substituting the school board president for the city superintendent as an ex-officio member of each local vocational school board.

Students Will Excavate Mounds in Illinois Area

Beloit — Fourteen men and 24 women students from Beloit college and the University of Chicago will form an expedition to excavate Indian mounds near Shirland, Ill., Thursday and Friday.

Dr. Gray Cooper Cole, head of the anthropology department of the University of Chicago, and Miss Madeline Kneberg, temporary curator of the Logan Museum of Anthropology at Beloit college, will head the expedition. They said their purpose is to acquaint students with methods of excavation rather than to make important finds.

Experienced Trailrite Offers Some Hints for Prospective Travelers

BY CARL W. MASON

Biloxi, Miss.—While we winter sojourners in the south are making or preparing to make the annual spring trek northward, the newly-thawed-out trailer enthusiasts above the Mason and Dixon line are gleefully laying plans for getting wheel upon the highways in a shining new vehicle or the old one refurbished up to delight the eye and afford a maximum of comfort.

While the incorrigible home gardener is gloating over his gorgeous seed catalogs the trailerite is gathering all the data he can obtain to add to the safety, convenience and economy of his projected trips. Here are a few hints that may be helpful to the trailer travelers particularly the many new ones venturing out this season for the first time.

A gasoline mantle lantern furnishes an excellent light when no electrical connections are available. Take the top off the lantern when using it indoors, it burns better.

Get a chain to reinforce your trailer hitch—such auxiliary connections being required in some states.

Carry a small folding table to permit cooking outdoors in hot weather. Even a lamp makes a trailer unbearably hot when the mercury is high. Some sort of awning for the side of the trailer will also prove a blessing in hot or rainy weather. An old tent or store awning or stray piece of canvas or heavy duck may be improvised into a serviceable awning, fastened over the top of the trailer, with ropes and similarly roped over two poles in front.

Keep Out Insects Trailers are well screened but gnats and other tiny insects get thru the finest mesh and, moreover, it is difficult to keep the trailer screen door shut at all times. A New York traveler recently showed me a device of his own that he said noticeably reduced the plague of bugs in his trailer. The rods by which the windows are opened from the inside and by which they are held open pass thru slots in the screen. These are large enough to permit even bees to walk thru. He cut rectangles of wire screening about 1 1/2 by 3 inches in size, made a slit down the middle and one on one side and slipped these over his window rods, pressing them down over the slots when the windows were raised.

The cooking table space on the cupboard beside the sink is apt to be a damp littered place. At first I used a old cloth cover but it slipped and slid and rumbled up and was full of cussedness generally. Then I bought a 10-cent linoleum mat that nearly covered the table and has proven very satisfactory.

Don't drive or park too close to street curbs or other obstructions. I had this item pointed out to me when I drove too close to a curb in a Mississippi town and suffered the exasperation of seeing a section of the leathered on the right front corner of my trailer torn off, necessitating a good-sized and all-too-obvious patch.

Not At Night Many trailerites travel at night unless absolutely necessary. So many of the accidents I have noted have occurred at night. This is when the joy rider, the alcoholic, the careless truck, the drowsy-eyed driver, the tired motorist, the blinding light and other hazards are at their worst.

And always remember that while you may be a neighborhood wonder and the envy of your friends and acquaintances in the home section when you start out with your lovely new trailer you may be just another pain in the neck or somewhere to the jaded public that has long suffered from ill-mannered, selfish, careless or destructive travelers or whose material interests have been damaged by the advent of the trailer. Self restraint, courtesy and understanding are as valuable to the trailerite as to any other traveler, perhaps even more so at this stage of development.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

A meeting of the county sheriff's committee has been scheduled for 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the courthouse, according to John E. Hantschel, county clerk. Routine work is planned.

Urges Treatment Of Gladiolus for Control of Thrips

Corrosive Sublimate Effective in Destruction Of Pest

The saying that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" applies to the control of gladiolus thrips, E. L. Chambers, state entomologist, stated in a report received today by R. C. Swanson, county agent.

The gladiolus thrips invaded the state only five years ago, he said, and already has proved to be a limiting factor in the growth of a flower once considered among the easiest to raise because of its freedom from out-of-control pests.

While various species of thrips are encountered in flowers, none has been responsible for the type of injury that the gladiolus variety causes. That variety rasps and tears the surface of the leaf and swallows the sap together with bits of the leaf tissue, Chambers explained. The injury it causes is manifested by a silverying of the foliage and a malformation and streaking of the flower.

By treating with corrosive sublimate, it is possible to free the gladiolus bulbs from this pest. All stocks, whether new or selected from bulbs stored through the winter should be treated before they are planted, he pointed out. The gladiolus thrips has not been able to winter out-of-state, he added.

Dip For 17 Hours

When thrips are numerous it is almost impossible to grow gladiolus satisfactorily unless the bulbs are treated with mercuric chloride (corrosive sublimate). Used as a dip for 17 hours, a solution of one ounce of this chemical in eight gallons of water kills all thrips on unpeeling corns. This treatment, according to Chambers, also will control the fungous diseases which attack the bulbs.

If it is the usual practice of the growers to peel the corns, three hours' immersion in a solution containing one ounce of corrosive sublimate to six gallons of water may be used. Since the chemical dissolves very slowly in cold water, it would be advisable to first dissolve it in a small quantity of hot water and then dilute to the correct amount with cold water.

In making successive treatments on a stock of bulbs, the best way of eradicating the thrips is by mixing a new solution to replace fluid absorbed by the bulbs in the preceding treatment, although one-half as much solution may be added to a batch that has been used instead.

Chambers recommended that the bulbs first be carefully husked and that any showing severe injury from disease lesions as manifested in discolored, sunken areas, be discarded entirely.

Students of German Will Take Erb Test

An examination which is the basis for awarding the Herman Erb prizes in German will be given at Lawrence college Wednesday afternoon. The first prize of $35 and second prize of $25 are the income from a fund of $1,200 which was established by Herman Erb. Only students who have had three or four years of German are eligible to take the examination.

Charge Federal Agency Violates Own Liquor Laws

Virgin Islands Distillery Gets Special Favors, Lawrence Reports

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Not content with the use of public funds to put the United States government into the business of selling rum, the Roosevelt administration has now permitted the Virgin Islands rum distillery to use selling arguments which it will not permit American rum-makers or distillers to use.

This contradiction has been called to the attention of the federal alcohol administration, but apparently the influence and pressure of other government agencies is such as to enable the rum to be sold under a system of special favors which private producers cannot enjoy.

One rum distributor—A. K. Hamilton and Co., of New York—has written the federal alcohol administration a series of letters beginning about April 10 with the hope of preventing unfair competition, but to no avail.

Competing with the federal government at best is a difficult job. Mr. Hamilton writes this correspondent, "but to make matters worse, you will be interested to know that the federal government in the short time since introducing government rum on the market has already violated certain regulations to which we, their competitors, are subject."

Mr. Hamilton's first telegram on April 10 to the federal alcohol administration asked: "Does the federal government's engaging in the rum business in competition with private industry allow it to violate the federal alcohol administration regulations?"

No Age on Labels
Enclosed with the telegram was an announcement made by the administration's rum selling agency to the effect that the rum is "one and one half years old" and this, Mr. Hamilton contended, was "in spite of the fact that no age reference is shown on the labels of the bottles."

Mr. Hamilton got nowhere with the FACA, so he resumed his plea on April 19, drawing attention to the specific regulations which are being violated, and added:

"What respect can private industry engaging in the liquor business have for the federal government regulations when the federal government itself violates them through their agents?"

Again, on April 30, more data were sent to the FACA, and finally Mr. Hamilton concluded:

"We frankly despair any longer of obtaining from the federal government protection from the government's violation of the federal alcohol administration regulations."

Responsible to President
It happens that the FACA is a division of the treasury department and as such is directly responsible to the president of the United States. Thus, of course, of no ordinary case of unfair competition, because the citizen has no redress nowadays against government competition of any kind unless perhaps it be in the courts. It is possible that Mr. Roosevelt, with his many duties and problems, has not had this matter called to his attention, for he has been away fishing during the time when the effort to sell the American youth on the advisability of buying rum has been in progress. It may be also that the president is unaware of the dispute that has arisen as to whether private capital was or was not invited in to handle the rum of the Virgin Islands a few years ago. It is being reported that the private owners of the distillery at the Virgin Islands were forced to sell at the behest of the government. All these questions are both novel and interesting, yet no effort has been made by any congressional committee to establish the facts. (Copyright, 1937)

Division to Discuss Summer Closing Hour

Members of the retail division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce will meet at 9:30 Wednesday morning at the chamber offices to discuss summer closing hours for stores during June, July and August. Last year stores closed at 5 o'clock during July and August and a similar arrangement to include June will be considered for this year. The 5 o'clock closing hour would not affect food stores which ordinarily close a half hour later than the others.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

BY HOWARD BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
Schenectady, N. Y. — Even the Greeks never had a name for a breeze which scientists here have dug out of what most folks would call still air.

It's the "breeze" that moves only five feet a minute. It shows on a new meter invented at the General Electric company laboratories.

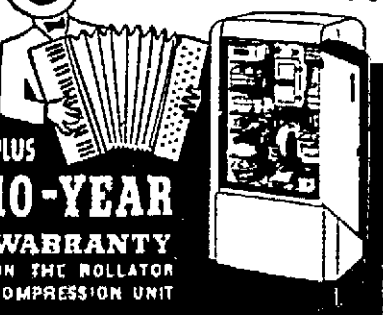

It is important, this nameless thing, for human comfort.

The purpose of the meter is to measure air movement never before appraised accurately, for the calculation of comfort in air conditioning.

Many people, the meter shows, can recognize vaguely a five-foot-per-minute movement of the air. But to date no one has complained that it is a "draft."

The amocba is so named from the Greek word meaning "change-ful," as the microscopic animal is constantly changing its shape.

LaSalle V-8 BREAKS STOCK CAR RECORD for Indianapolis Speedway

Ralph DePalma Averages 82.18 Miles Per Hour in 500-Mile Run

ON MONDAY, MAY 10TH, a stock model LaSalle V-8—running under A.A.A. supervision—broke the stock car record for the Indianapolis Speedway.

With Ralph DePalma at the wheel, the distance was covered in 366 minutes—an average of 82.18 miles per hour. This is almost 8 miles per hour faster than the original Speedway record established by racing cars.

In spite of the record time, it was not a trial for speed. The run was made to prove LaSalle's endurance, roadability, safety and handling ease.

At the finish of the run, DePalma wired the Cadillac factory as follows:
"I finished third in the original Indianapolis race, and I lost physically and mentally exhausted. Today, I feel fine after completing the same 500 miles in a LaSalle at a much faster pace. I never drove a car that performed in so effortless a fashion or handled so easily. My hat is certainly off to LaSalle!"
Wouldn't you like to drive a car that can thrill a veteran driver like Ralph DePalma? If so, come in today. We will gladly place a LaSalle at your disposal.

N. T. A. Convention Will be Held From May 31 to June 3

Appleton Persons Named On Cooperating Com- mittee for Meeting

Dr. E. F. Mielke and Mrs. R. J. White, both of Appleton, have been named by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association to the state cooperating committee for the thirty-first annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association to be held in Milwaukee, May 31 to June 3. The American Sanatorium association and the National Conference of Tuberculosis Secretaries are also meeting at that time.

Mrs. White has been active on the health committee of the Appleton Woman's club, which carries on tuberculosis activities, and she directed the 1936 Christmas seal sale in Appleton.

Armed with the fact that there is enough knowledge to eradicate the scourge of tuberculosis from the country, 1,500 physicians, research scientists, nurses, social workers and laymen will convene at the meeting in Milwaukee to plan the wider distribution and more general application of this knowledge.

50th Anniversary
The meeting will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the first tuberculosis dispensary in the world at Edinburgh, Scotland, by Sir Robert Philip, M.D. This dispensary was the first organized community effort against an ancient scourge.

While the tuberculosis death rate in the United States has been forced down from 201 deaths per 100,000 population in 1904 to only 54 in 1935, this preventable and curable disease still takes almost 70,000 lives in the United States each year. In the front rank of fighters seeking to protect the people of the nation are more than 2,000 tuberculosis associations financed by the annual sale of Christmas seals bearing the double-headed red cross.

Will Pledge Seal
On the program for Monday, May 31, are meetings of the American Sanatorium association and the National Conference of Tuberculosis Secretaries; a child health education round table and a session devoted to planning the 1937 Christmas seal sale.

The outstanding event of the Monday program will be the awarding of the Trudeau medal at the general opening meeting of the National Tuberculosis association Monday night. The medal, named in honor of Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau, founder of the first tuberculosis sanatorium in the United States at Saranac, N. Y., will be awarded to an individual who has done outstanding work in the campaign against tuberculosis. The recipients of the medal is not announced until the award is made.

Sectional meetings discussing the tuberculosis problem from the pathological, administrative, clinical and sociological viewpoints will continue through Thursday, June 3.

Lectures Here on Christian Science

Missouri Man Says Fear of Evil Can be Destroyed By Science

Dr. John M. Tutt, C. S. B., of Kansas City, Mo., a member of the board of lecturers of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ Scientist, Boston, Mass., last night gave a lecture entitled "Life Unafraid" at Lawrence Memorial chapel. This lecture was given under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Appleton.

The lecture in part follows: The consciousness of good which is man is the concrete expression of objectification, or embodiment of Mind, Principle, Soul, Spirit, Life, Truth, Love. The consciousness of good excludes evil. Thus Christian Science destroys fear of evil, whether it be fear of objectified evil or fear of the unknown and unseen.

Fear is always an aspect of personal sense. It is a false feeling or emotion accepted by personal self. It involves and hinges on a sense of danger to one's self or to one's interest in people or in things. Hence the infallible cure for fear is in self-forgetfulness or unselfishness, based on the unity of one's real self with God, on one's inseparability from good, and on one's real identity as God's man. This knowledge of true selfhood dispels fear. This consciousness makes it impossible to entertain any false sense of self or of fellowman, or any false belief contrary to universal good. In the absence of evil one sees only good, and disease, disasters, accidents, sin, want, pain, sorrow, discord, are impossible. Hence the fearful man is, so far, departing from Christian Science.

Into Life Unafraid
The Christian Science textbook instructs: "Always begin your treatment by allaying the fear of death." If you succeed in wholly removing the fear, your patient is healed" (S. & H. p. 411).

We have now established that fear is a false belief in evil, in its activity, its inevitability, in its reality, and that Christianly scientific healing consists in discovering false belief to be unreal. Life unafraid is life unconvinced and unpossessed by the claims of error. The real, the spiritual, man is free to accept good only. Each mortal is a free moral agent to accept or reject the suggestions of evil. All consideration of error is properly directed towards its negation and disappearance from thought and hence from body and experience.

Any discussion of evil that leaves one afraid of it is either excessive or inadequate and is unwholesome. In Christian Science the way to destroy sin, disease and death is to know their unreality, yet too often we seek to learn too much about error or its phases. The only important thing about any claim of error is its nothingness. Knowing that fact alone casts out fear and heals. The issue is simple. Insofar as the analysis of error moves it nothing to us we are wise to take error to pieces. Insofar as finding the cause of disease or other discord exposes its causelessness it is good to seek out the supposed cause. Insofar as the symptoms vanish under our search it is good so to expose them to the corrective action of light. But at most all such procedure in any case is incidental to the knowing of error's unreality. The quicker this understanding occupies the ground in our consciousness the sooner will the disease, sin or other mortality vanish.

Treatment in Christian Science removes disease into false thought, into error of belief. Thus and thus only does disease become amenable to Christian Science treatment. To subject error to the action of Truth does not necessarily require a recital of error's details, but it does require the fearlessness of disbelief in error. Unafraidness does not call for messy contact with evil; but, contrariwise, raises one above such necessity. Fearlessness helps to take away from error its claims to importance and power. Christian Science cannot heal a disease if it be an entity. Christian Science discovers man to be well. Christian Science does not address itself to the treatment of a physical disease any more than to the treatment of a physical body.

It is the theory of material medicine even more than its practice, that Christian Science rejects. Christian Science brings all disease on to the plane of false belief, deals with the mental aspects of the individual case, the conscious or tacit compliance in that case with mortal mind's so-called laws of nature, physiology, material medicine, chemistry or physics. Christian Science casts out the offending error of belief and heals the case scientifically by replacing the lies in human consciousness with the real facts. Annulling false beliefs will heal any case, and only so is healing accomplished. Disease is a state involving fear of evil. Health is a state involving fearlessness and confidence in good.

The Unafraidness of Enlightenment
It is not too much to say that all false belief is based on the unknown. When the mask of falsity is removed error disappears, for there is nothing behind the mask. Enlightenment invariably disposes of fear in all its ghostly forms. Christian Science says with Christ Jesus: "Be not afraid," because there is nothing to be afraid of. Being afraid of nothing, does not make sense, and being afraid of something real is being afraid of good, and that is more senseless still. Life unafraid is therefore life into which enlightenment has entered. The office of Christ is the action of the idea of Truth entering human consciousness and flooding the waste places of darkness, ignorance, with the light of understanding.

316 WPA Conservation Projects in Wisconsin

The work supplied employment to 6,697 persons, including 1,638 employed on irrigation and water conservation undertakings; 1,918 on erosion control and land utilization work; 646 on forestation projects; 2,465 on other conservation projects; and 33 on elimination of stream pollution.

The archaopteryx, known to science only through fossils, was an animal in transition between a reptile and a bird.

Plan Field Day At Seymour High

Graduates of All Rural and State Graded Schools Invited to Attend

Seymour—Between 75 and 100 graduates of rural and state graded schools are expected to visit Seymour High school on Field Day, Thursday. Invitations have been extended to the graduates of 39 schools in the neighborhood of Seymour.

The graduates will visit classes, attend a special assembly program, see extra-curricular activities in action, partake of a free lunch at noon, and participate in a field meet in the afternoon. High school students will assist them in finding their way about the building in visiting classes.

The Ladies Aid society of the Evangelical church will serve a public supper on Wednesday. An apron sale will be held with the supper.

Large Class to Attend First Holy Communion

Kimberly—A large class of children will make their first holy communion at the 6:30 mass next Sunday morning. The children's parents will occupy the front pews in church and will also receive holy communion with them.

Although all the bills for the May festival which was held at the Holy Name school by the sisters and children May 9 are not in as yet, indications are that the proceeds will be larger than last year when $547.52 were made. It is expected that all the bills will be in this week when a final report will be given.

The street committee have reported that all streets needing oiling will be taken care of this week. Oiling will begin Friday morning.

Holy Name court of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will hold its regular meeting 7:30 Thursday evening at the clubhouse.

The Blessed Virgin Sodality of the Holy Name church will hold a meeting in the school at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. Father Eugene, Appleton will speak.

How Appleton Grew Under Its 30 Mayors Since 1857

(This is the fourteenth of a series of articles discussing Appleton's mayors and the important matters occurring during their administrations. These articles will appear once a week in the Post-Crescent.)

BY LLOYD J. DERUS

Mayor James Ryan who served in 1878 was born in Wisconsin and came to Appleton in 1853 before the city was incorporated. He was active in public life and also served the city as alderman, treasurer and postmaster and was at one time a state senator from this district.

Conferences on the proposed water works were held throughout the year with representatives of various companies and other cities but no action was taken on the matter.

The city was divided into two fire districts, the First, Second and Sixth wards in the first district and the Third, Fourth and Fifth wards in the second. The council rented offices over the Manufacturers National bank.

Telephones were being installed in many homes throughout the city this year and manufacture of steel wire horseshoe nails was started. The city spent $4,624 on improvements including sewers, culverts, wing dams and bridges. Boulet's new flour mill was put into operation. The city pound was ordered sold and the council considered purchasing Telulah park and spring as a "public breathing place."

Bonded indebtedness of the city in 1878 was $109,000 while the assessed valuation was $1,833,920. Because of the large number of farmers in the county which came to the city to market food and other articles the council considered purchasing an area of land for a market place.

ton Hough, Voyta Wrabetz, R. McA. Keown, H. A. Klemm, E. J. O'Meara, G. E. Buns, Henry Kimberly, F. A. Robinson, A. M. Bleyer, Jay Putney, Herman Wendt, A. G. Briggs, R. C. Mahony, A. A. Kruschke, and Lieut. William Waters.

MAYOR RYAN

James Ryan, above, who served Appleton as mayor in 1878, also held offices of alderman, treasurer and postmaster and was at one time a state senator from this district. The city was divided into two fire districts during his term.

Provide for Payment Of U. S. Savings Bonds

The treasury department has made provision for the immediate payment by federal reserve banks of any properly certified United States savings bond which is registered and for which payment is to be made to the registered owner, Stephen D. Bullett, Appleton Postmaster, announced today. Owners may expedite payments by forwarding the bonds, after certification, to the nearest federal reserve bank.

THE PRESIDENT IS BACK ON THE JOB

It is well that the President returns refreshed to Washington because he has a difficult task upon his desk.

An outing of the sort he took is highly essential to a man under the great pressure which shortens the life and, at times, the temper of perhaps the most overworked and overbothered man in the country.

But the task is a real one. And it is a difficult one. A large share of the difficulty, we think, was occasioned by the President himself, his easygoing manner, his postponement of mean tasks to the last possible moment, an unhappy quality in any sort of an executive.

Here is the problem—the nation faces the largest anticipated revenue in its history, and yet insufficient to pay the tremendous cost of the machine we call the national government.

The administration insists despite the unemployed that prosperity is back. The financial sheets of operating companies corroborate it. Laws it has devised compel the payment of all corporate earnings in dividends so that it may pick off its share.

And yet it hasn't enough money. Surtaxes on individuals have been raised to the highest point in American history. Those in the upper brackets go to 78 per cent.

And yet we haven't enough money to get along.

Inheritance taxes have been increased on three separate occasions since Mr. Roosevelt has been in office. They, too, are at the highest point in our history.

And yet we haven't enough money to get along.

Corporate taxes have been upped and upped. Subterfuges and technical means of escape have been closed off.

And yet there isn't enough in the till to pay our expenses.

Individual income taxes in the lower brackets have been substantially increased by the erasure of the exemption formerly granted to those receiving dividends from domestic corporations.

And still the national government runs in the red.

Sales taxes paid directly by the great mass of the people provide additional hundreds of millions.

But still there is not enough.

Yet we must record one fair sign. The President has talked more directly about the necessity for economy than at any other time excepting, of course, when he was running for office in 1932. A larger number of congressmen are getting over their careless way and seeing the necessity of giving consideration to the national problem even ahead of the matter of the rebuilding of their own fences for reelection.

If the President is the tough guy he says he is here is a chance for him to show his mettle.

For it doesn't take a tough guy to give the resources of the nation away but it does to protect them.

THE POWER OF THE PRESIDENT

The President says he will not concede an inch on his supreme court plan but must have the immediate appointment of six judges.

Since the country likes a fight it will enjoy the resulting contest, and incidentally it may learn what rights the people have and what rights devolve upon a ruler merely by reason of his election.

Mr. Roosevelt's plan had its high water mark the day it was uttered. It has been losing ground ever since.

It has lost ground strictly on its lack of merit. And it has lost ground in the public eye despite the tremendous power of the White House over certain organizations which it has favored, the far-reaching influence of Field Marshal Farley with tens of thousands of good-pay jobs for distribution and the popularity of the Administration created in many quarters by the generous distribution of billions of dollars.

When a measure can lose face so swiftly, the conclusion must be that in the opinion of the vast majority it is highly dangerous to American stability and the American future, which, incidentally should be as important to the American people as their pride in the past.

The contest between the President and the people is a plain one. It is simply this: Has Mr. Roosevelt already garnered sufficient power in America to lead congress as he wills?

AMERICAN SKIRTS CATASTROPHE—CLEAR

After the recent zeppelin explosions there was a tendency even among some of our own to criticize the government as harsh and selfish in relation to the rules governing the disposition of our non-explosive helium of which America has a virtual monopoly.

But the files at Washington have been carefully examined and they show, as might have been anticipated, a singularly clear and high-minded record in relation to this very subject.

It was in 1929 that Dr. Eckener, then on the Graf Zeppelin, in making a trip around the world moored at Lakehurst and paid a visit to President Hoover. The files show that the subject of helium and hydrogen arose in that discussion, probably because congress had placed some restrictions upon the export of the former in that a board composed of three members of the cabinet had the right of approval of export.

At that conference Mr. Hoover informed Dr. Eckener that helium would be made available to him if it were desired. The great German was not exactly receptive to the idea. Apparently he had determined upon making zeppelins dependent only upon their native land for everything by way of construction, operation and navigation, nor could the cost of the helium have been an entirely negligible factor in his decision.

Only a few months after this important conference the Helium Control Board wrote concerning one of its decisions:

"This does not imply that there is any disposition to limit the quantity to be exported."

The Hoover administration policy in relation to the export of helium was therefore a liberal one. There is no evidence that the Roosevelt administration departed from it.

The record of the last eight years points the finger at the Germans as chance takers. In 1930 a great British airship crashed against a hill in France with resulting explosion and the burning of 47 passengers. The destruction of the Shenandoah, Akron and Macon, all American, presented no casualty from explosion or fire because they were inflated with helium.

The record, therefore, points all one way, that whoever may be criticized for the use of hydrogen, or however its virtues may be weighed against its inflammability, there is no word of blame that can justly be laid against our government.

OUR HIGHWAYS AND OUR PEOPLE

In passing 583-A the assembly at Madison, knowingly or otherwise, made a pronounced step in the wrong direction.

The collection and distribution of taxes in a great commonwealth is more or less of a labyrinth to many people but the voters should keep clearly in mind a few of the salient principles that should govern in such cases.

The state highway system is of vital interest to every citizen. And the trouble is he doesn't understand that fact clearly enough.

That system is responsible for the enjoyment of hundreds of thousands of people who come to this state every summer for their leisure. The wholesome enjoyment of leisure is a major industry in this country and will continue to be just that.

Careful surveys have shown that approximately 60 per cent of all travel in Wisconsin is on its state highway system although that system comprises so much less in the way of mileage as compared to the total of other systems.

Now, Bill 583-A is returning to towns, cities and villages, in addition to their regular percentage, an average of nearly $3,000,000 above the amounts required by enacted law and which has been received through auto licenses and gas taxes, an increase occasioned, no doubt, by the feeling of prosperity in the country and which, again, will be increased substantially just as the flood of our summer visitors grows.

During the depression our state highway system suffered severely.

Sending this $3,000,000 out into our thousands of cities, towns and villages means a small amount to each which will be diverted to every purpose under the sun whereas retaining it for highway purposes would mean its matching by the federal government with another $3,000,000.

Thus $6,000,000 are kept from the normal and proper use to which they should be expended and the so-called capital investment of the state by means of which it attracts business for all of its people is depleted.

That is decidedly not good business. It is bad business for Door County, and Shawano, and Oconto, to mention a few within easy range and that receive heavily of the tourist traffic and dollars. But it is equally bad for a county without a summer resort.

If the legislature is bound to distribute this money why should it not retain at least 60 per cent of it for the state upon whose highway system is borne 60 per cent of Wisconsin's traffic?

Rome, it was officially estimated, had a population of 1,133,058 in 1935. Its greatest population in ancient times was 312,000 in 585 B. C.

CAME the news, early yesterday, that Mister Big, down in Washington, was putting the heat on the boys and that Sniffling Jim Farley pointed out that from now on Senator O'Mahoney and his ilk could expect nothing in the way of patronage . . . this is the news that I, as one who disapproves of many New Deal methods, have been waiting to hear . . . from now on we can expect a democratic form of government again—providing the senators hang tough—and it doesn't make any difference to me what the party label is . . . as a matter of fact, if it resolved itself down to a battle between the New Deal party and the Democratic party, I'd cheer loudly . . . what the country needs—in the interests of democracy—is two strong parties . . . what difference does it make what you call 'em?

SODBUSTINGS

Jonah—

"Every prospect pleases and only man is vile" ain't always so on this homestead. I planted tomato vines and they were blighted by a withered hand. At 4 a.m. they were awful pretty scintillating in white frost. If I replant they'll get a relapse.

Ain't that weather man ever sure of anything? He said frost probable. If he called his pigs to breakfast I don't believe they would come 'cause they couldn't be sure they was going to get it.

And Mrs. Sodbuster said I better help her with the house-cleaning instead of writing poetry or some day she'd be "Gone with the Wind."

I wish we was back in February and the Sun-Dogs was fighting on each side of the setting sun. Then I'd know what to expect, any how.

I hoe the spinach
My wife hose the rose
Every body knows
Where the quack grass grows
Cherry trees in blossom
Every thing is white
Then comes a white frost
And they all get the blight.

Oh, what's the use? —Ezekiel Sodbuster

The trick, these days, is to find a country without some kind of a crisis or other.

Perhaps that's right—the observation that Wallis Warfield's new title as style queen of the universe is maybe more desirable than the throne of Great Britain.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

WHAT IS SUNDAY WITHOUT A BEAU?

The organ thunders hopefully:
Outside the spinning greenery
With golden sunlight is aglow.
What is Sunday without a beau?
The hymnal's printed page grows dim.
She sings, but with a note of woe,
For she is lonesome without him.

There are a lot of boys who know
Her constant heart and crave her glance.
She keeps her gaze on her book so
For friendly smiles there is no chance.
Her thoughts are on her own romance.
She kneels, and her fair head bows low.
Slowly the clock's black hands advance . . .
What is Sunday without a beau?

What is Sunday without a beau.
Or any day without the voice
Of love for comfort, breathing low
A word that makes the heart rejoice?
Caught in love's thrall, there is no choice
But to be lonely, and to grow
Sick for the sound of one loved voice!
What is Sunday without a beau?

IMPROVING THE QUALITY

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

PREPATAL HYGIENE

I am an expectant father, writes an eastern correspondent, if you know what I mean . . .

Boy, I know. What is more I might add that you haven't experienced any anxiety yet. Being an expectant father is more child's play compared with being an expectant grandpa—a grandprimiparum twice in one year. There is one bit of advice I want to give right at the outset. It is this. Put the case in the hands of the best doctor you know at the earliest possible moment and permit no one else to interfere or offer suggestions of any kind. I followed that course with my first baby, and it gave me a great deal of comfort and assurance. Only coincidence that I picked myself as the doctor—naturally I would, don't you think? Another great advantage in employing a physician early is that you shift onto his shoulders all the worrying—a doctor may do a good deal of quiet worrying but it is all more or less in the line of duty or business with him, so it doesn't break down his health. I think I did enough quiet worrying for my first baby to serve for a creche of ordinary babies, but through the ordeal I was sustained by the knowledge that ours was the best doctor in the county. (I hope this does not come to the eye of that doctor who wrote the other day about my unadulterated egotism.)

This correspondent continues: I am naturally quite nervous, and fear any excitement or undue anxiety at this time might have a bad effect on my health and the baby's. For the benefit of myself and other young men in a similar predicament, please suggest suitable diet, exercise and whatever other good hygiene you think the expectant father should have. (T. J. L.)

The expectant father should take a bread and milk diet supper or dinner (whatever you call the main meal) two or three days a week, to give the little woman a rest from cooking and to encourage her to take her daily quart of milk—for she must take a quart of milk every day without any fooling.

If he smokes he had better switch now to a pipe and tobacco costing less than a dollar a pound, for he is going to need every penny for that little stranger who is coming for a long visit, and one-third of a man's cigarette or cigar money, which he throws away—will buy shoes and choo-choo cars and even a life insurance policy which will some day pay for the baby's education.

Every day when the expectant father comes home he should bring some fresh fruit, whatever is in season or on the market at reasonable cost, or some fresh green salad stuff—such as lettuce cabbage, any kind of greens, for these are as important in the prospective mother's diet as milk. In fact she can't get along very well without them.

Nervous my eye. See to it that a good doctor, just a plain family doctor, is engaged early, and then see that no one else horns in with unsought advice.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Heart Trouble

Man has permanent case of heart trouble and is in doubt whether he should get married, for fear children would be born with heart trouble. (M. R.)

Answer—It is all so vague I am unable to surmise whether he should. Anyhow, the man's own physician can give the best opinion.

Green Potatoes

Referring to your opinion that green potatoes are not harmful to eat, I quote U. S. Agriculture Dept. Farmer's Bulletin 847, page 4: "Several deaths from eating badly greened potatoes have occurred in both man and animals." (G. F. S.)

Answer—That's just an old Yankee legend. I still maintain there is no danger involved in eating potaatoes which have turned green from being uncovered while growing. More likely the deaths so recorded were instances of poisoning from arsenic or Paris green.

Your Birthday

"TAURUS"

If May 19 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:45 to 10:45 a. m., from 2:35 to 4:45 p. m. and from 8:45 to 10:45 p. m. The danger periods are from 6:45 to 8:45 a. m., from 4:45 to 6:45 p. m. and from 10:45 p. m. until midnight.

If you decide to change your mind regarding an appointment or promise, be careful that it does not work a hardship on someone else. Much of the anger aroused this day will be due to thoughtlessness. Time is valuable and the only asset a salesman has, so business men should bear this in mind, as a waste of it most probably will bring about a very bad reaction, perhaps in affecting future credits. It might be well to bear in mind that no one ever knows when he or she will have to ask a favor, and someone you might think this day is apt in the near future to be in the position of doing you a kindness. Money will slip through many fingers this day, so handle yours wisely. It might be well to form no set opinion after hearing gossip, for the chances are there will be two sides to every story, and what you hear may be predicated on surmises rather than actual facts. Married and engaged couples, as well as those engaged in courtships, had best consult with each other before determining upon any course of action involving both.

If a woman and May 19 is your birthday, you may be slow in anger, but have a highly explosive temper, when you are aroused. You are probably the type of person who makes friends with ease among all classes. You may be guided more by instinct than by reasoning, and are apt seldom to make a mistake. You may be agreeably surprised by some strange trick of fortune helping you to advance on the road to prosperity. You are capable of doing very constructive thinking. You should have a gracious manner, and an extremely sweet disposition. Work along literary, dictatorial, educational or artistic lines may enable you to win quite a name for yourself. Your matrimonial outlook appears bright. The child born on May 19, generally by the time it reaches school age, has developed an exceptionally keen sense of humor. Its good nature and sociable ways usually make it a universal favorite.

If a man and May 19 is your natal day, you ought to be a very just and upright man. People should have a great amount of confidence in you. As a physician, lawyer, contact man, publicity expert, accountant or journalist you may to success ought to be uninterrupted.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY GEORGE TUCKER

New York—Broadway show girls and chorus girls, the fetching ones who seriously pursue their careers behind the footlights, are not pleased when there bursts on the front pages of the nation new episodes in the serial of "Broadway Butterfly Murders," such as happened in the reporting of the mysterious death of Veronica Geddon, voluptuous model.

Their complaint (being practical as well as beautiful) is that most of the principals have been play-actors, and a perusal of the records indicates that very few indeed were stunningly prominent in stage careers. Louise Lawson, Dorothy King and Vivian Gordon were show girls—but not stars.

Marion "Kiki" Roberts, sometimes a brunette but often a redhead, was a chorus girl in the Ziegfeld "Follies" until she held a rendezvous with the gangster, "Legs" Diamond, a few hours before he was shot to death.

It was not long after this that the real Mrs. "Legs" Diamond appeared in a sketch at a Times Square burlesque theater, and the following week she was succeeded by "Kiki" herself with her cute Dutch bob. The employer of both was William Minsky, burlesque producer, who was, curiously, the 12th man chosen on the jury that convicted "Legs" Diamond when he was sentenced to four years for conspiracy to violate the prohibition amendment.

There was, however, in the luxury lanes of Butterfly Row one girl who was very close to stardom when death mysteriously cut short her career. She was Bobbie Storey, a blond-haired, blue-eyed barmaid from London halls. As a barmaid she served royalty and nobility, and she was happy in her hidden, friendly life among the Haymarket striders.

It was Charlot, the French musical revue producer, who saw her there one night drawing steins of beer and decided that she should be a star in his new show. She accepted the sum he offered, of course, and forgot her ambitions to remain London's prettiest barmaid.

"Understand, though," she warned him, "it is a mistake for me to enter show business is not for me. It will kill me." Having made this prophetic utterance, she became a featured artist in his show and then came on to New York for leads in "Vanities" and the "Follies."

PROHIBITION AND PROSPERITY

Editor, The Post-Crescent—One of your readers has been kind enough to send me a copy of Mrs. Robert L. Strong's letter published in your issue of April 10.

May I have the privilege of adding just a word of comment on Mrs. Strong's letter. Statistics just published by the U. S. Census Bureau show that the death rate from alcoholism in 1935 was 2.6 per 100,000 of population. In the prohibition years of 1927 and 1928, when the Federal Government alone was spending $30,000,000 a year trying to enforce prohibition, the death rate was 4.0 each year per 100,000 of population. As deaths from alcoholism were 50 per cent higher during prohibition, than since repeal, it is evident that there

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—Some of congress's brighter minds got an idea the other day that it would be a good plan to impose a "gin marriage" law on Washington, and if they do it will be a grand thing for nearby "midnight ministers" in Maryland who will marry just about anything in sight at any hour.

To understand just how funny such a law would be it must be understood that Maryland joins on Washington.

The streets of Washington run right on into Maryland without so much as a white line marking the intersection. The principal difference is that on the Maryland side the taxes are reported a bit higher since the people can't run to congress for help in paying police and paving bills.

Competition

Now for a very long time there has been competition among the midnight ministers and the clerks in Maryland for getting the Washington business. Such is the competition that sign boards along the highway greet motorists with the information that 200 feet ahead is a clerk who will perform unimpeachable marriage ceremonies at any hour.

There have been purely campaigns to stop that sort of thing but it hasn't even slowed down, and if anything could be devised to help it along it would be a gin marriage bill.

Just why it is more fun to be married in Maryland than in Washington is not clear on the record but the local ministers don't like the loss of trade and it can be expected that if the Maryland ministers send a lobby here to work for the legislation they will be met by a lobby from the District desiring any effort to drive a home industry into foreign fields.

No Comeback

Washington has had marriage troubles before. The city is filled with lads and lassies from out in the shelter-belt areas who got jobs here because their father helped the congressman carry his precinct. They get lonesome for the sound of a quiet night and marriage is the next logical step, since both have jobs and two incomes are better than one.

In the tough days of a year or so back an edict was issued that husband and wife could not both hold federal jobs. That put a real crimp in the marrying business for a while, but apparently there were ways of getting around that. A federal employees' organization which did not like the edict came forward with information that many of the lonesome couples were simply beginning to live together without benefit of clergy.

Actually the gin-marriage talk was mostly an outcropping of the congressional yen to make the people moral by law, which suffered a setback with repeal. Besides, it is safe and comfortable to practice on Washington. The people here can't vote.

Murray, Ky.—(P)—Frank Beaman has been the same pair of shoes continuously for 24 years. Years ago, when he had to be on his feet quite a bit with his milk route, he had steel plates made to fit the soles of his shoes. He gives the plates credit for the shoes' longevity.

Beaman also has a pair of over-shoes—youngesters, practically—that he has worn for 20 years.

NARROW ESCAPE

Vulcan, Alta.—(P)—Bobby Hoga, nine-year-old, escaped death when he fell from a tractor in the path of a trailing disc. His body became so deeply imbedded in the soft earth that the sharp discs passed over him. He sustained only a broken arm and hip in the fall.

must have been a great deal more drinking at that time.

There is no official record of the cost of drink during prohibition, but as prices were much higher than now, it must have been much greater. There is just this difference between the two periods. Under repeal, Federal, state and local government are making the major profits of the legal beverage industries and applying them to the payment of old age pensions, public relief, public schools and other useful ends. During prohibition, criminals took all the profits to finance crime. Profits taken by governments, since repeal, now amount to more than $2,500,000,000. Dry evildoers think criminals can make better use of this money than presidents, governors and mayors.

Mrs. Strong's figures about milk consumption since repeal are indefinite. The United States Department of Agriculture has no records on milk consumption for 1935 and 1936, but dairy farmers received cash incomes of $1,292,113,000 in 1935 and $1,417,000,000 in 1936, as compared with $888,000,000 in 1932, the last year of prohibition.

Notwithstanding the repeated droughts, and the Government's emergency cattle buying program, the average milk production for the beer and repeal years, 1933-1935, was 102,648 million pounds as compared with 99,652 million pounds in the prohibition period, 1928-1932.

Since 1932, farm income has increased more than $1,000,000,000 a year, and farm values have increased more than ten billions of dollars. Unquestionably, the purchase of large quantities of grain, formerly

Fishing Draws Many Visitors To Wisconsin

State Publicity Director Tells Lion Club of New Program

Although fishing is the magnet which draws the majority of summer visitors to Wisconsin, only one out of about every 30 visitors obtains a non-resident fishing license. J. H. Alexander, Madison, told Lion club members at their luncheon meeting yesterday. Mr. Alexander is superintendent of the recreational publicity division of the Wisconsin Conservation department at Madison.

About 90,000 non-resident licenses were issued last year as compared to 64,000 in 1935. Mr. Alexander said as he explained the fishing promotion project of his department. Fishing was stressed in advertisements last year and out-of-state residents were reminded that in 1935 Wisconsin planted about 523,000,000 fish in streams and lakes, the speaker said.

"The fighting muskellunge lure the majority of anglers and thousands of queries concerning muskellunge waters were received by the department last year," Mr. Alexander said.

Started Program in 1935
The publicity program to make people Wisconsin-minded was started in January, 1935, after the state legislature appropriated $50,000 for the movement, he said. Promotional work thus far has been centered in areas within 300 miles of Wisconsin's borders.

Newspapers, magazines and booklets have been used in advertising media and it is estimated that no more than 6,000,000 persons have read publicity about Wisconsin's vacation areas, Mr. Alexander stated.

"In the fall of 1936, the publicity department sent questionnaires to all resort owners and their reports showed a 32 per cent increase in business. Credit for this is not being taken by the department although we feel that the new publicity did help last year," the speaker said.

Thus far no complaints about Wisconsin resorts have been received although about 400 queries are received each day, he explained. Last year 387 letters requesting information were received one day in May and this year a high mark of 488 queries was set May 11.

"Wisconsin residents should not be afraid to tell about vacation opportunities in the state as there is room for expansion in every section. No over-statement has been made in advertising and publicity material because satisfied customers always will help in making Wisconsin a vacation center," Mr. Alexander stated.

Golf, horse shoe, tennis and archery tournaments have been completed at McKinley Junior High school and athletics now are competing in softball and other spring sports. J. Pavers defeated W. Thompson in the finals of the tennis tournament and he also is in the semi-finals of the horse shoe meet.

In the latter event, J. Pavers won over G. Swamp; H. Stumpf defeated E. Clark; V. Helms vanquished R. Stuedel; M. Kam won over T. Smith. E. Krueger beat G. Snow in the finals of the archery tournament. In golf matches thus far, G. Swamp beat N. Abel and A. Sonnenfitter won over E. Krueger. D. Knaack is the third player still in the tourney.

MILWAUKEE ROAD

RETRIEVER TO APPEAR IN SHOW

David, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Derber, 515 N. Vine street, is shown proudly displaying his father's pedigree Labrador retriever, one of the dogs which will be entered in the all-city, all-breed dog show to be sponsored by the Appleton chapter of the Izaak Walton league at Pierce park Sunday.

The Labrador is outstanding among the breed retrievers. Believed to be a cross of the smaller Newfoundland breed, they were brought into England early in the twentieth century and became a favorite among the hunters. Its great advantage is the close and short coat which does not easily pick up burrs, is easy to keep in condition, and is an excellent water shedder. The Labrador retrievers are good workers in the field as well as the water, are affectionate and not inclined to be temperamental.

Expect Record Entry in Second Annual Dog Show

Thoroughbred animals with pedigrees like European royalty, and dogs that are just ordinary "scrubs" will vie for awards in various classifications in the city-wide, all-breed dog show to be sponsored by the Appleton chapter of the Izaak Walton league at Pierce park Sunday.

Dog owners who expect to enter their pets in the show should fill out entry blanks at once. L. H. Dillon, general chairman, suggested today. Blanks now are available at Krull's Pet and Seed Store, Kaufman Hardware store, Pond Sport Shop, Schlafer's and the Valley Sport shop.

A record entry of about 200 dogs is expected by Walton league officials. The show will begin at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

There will be no entry fees but cutes provided that every dog must be provided with a 3 to 4-foot leash. Ribbons will be awarded for each first, second and third place winners with special merchandise awards for various groups. The owners of the grand champion will receive a silver cup which must be won three years in succession to become a permanent award.

Hollywood News And Gossip

BY ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood—The names of Astaire and Rogers over the boxoffice will mean more than ever after "Shall We Dance?" And the name of Mark Sandrich, who directed this most original of their offerings, should go up five or six rungs higher on the ladder.

Not since "The Gay Divorcee," first co-starring vehicle of the dancing pair, has Hollywood seen their talents displayed so sparklingly.

Astaire, playing a Pennsylvania boy masquerading as a Russian for professional reasons, falls in love with Ginger's photographs and decides to marry her. He pursues her from Paris to New York, where a gossip report of their marriage has preceded them. Ginger's efforts to untangle the situation and marry a dull playboy only enmesh them further, leading to a proposal of marriage from the pursued to the pursuer as the way out. But it doesn't end there, of course. All of this permits the logical introduction of such high spots as Astaire's imitation of a temperamental Russian dance for Ginger's benefit; his steamy-room dance on shipboard; his dance on roller skates with Harriet Hooton, who plays herself; and Eric Blore's hysterical attempts to explain to Edward Everett Horton, via telephone, that he is detained at the Susquehanna police station.

George Gershwin did the music and Ira the lyrics. The support includes Jerome Cowan, Ketti Galligan, and William Brisbane. Mark Sandrich is a young director (36) from New York who has been in pictures since 1922. He wrote and directed features and comedies in comparative obscurity until one of his shorts—"So This Is Harris"—impressed RKO. Since then he has done several of the Astaire-Rogers hits, all excellent but none so marked by individuality as his latest. Credit must be given for many laugh lines and situations to Allan Scott and Ernest Pagano, screen playwrights, but the touch of Sandrich is always present. Laugh situations they developed on the set include Blore's Susquehanna episode, so hilarious that many lines are lost in laughter; Astaire's weaving trickery to make Horton seasick; the surprise ending to the roller-skate dance; and Horton's reaction to the news picture brought in my Astaire.

'Sophisticated Social Leaders' Rebuked While Speakers Extol Motherhood

DECLARING that the world today is slipping back to the paganism which regarded women as mere chattel instead of honoring them as mothers, the Rev. Joseph Biegler, assistant pastor at St. Mary's Catholic church, Menasha, speaking at the mother and daughter banquet Monday night at St. Joseph church, sharply rebuked "the sophisticated social leader" who apologized a few weeks ago because there were only 604 clinics in the United States where birth control was practiced.

Motherhood was extolled by both Father Biegler and the Rev. Father Cyprian, pastor of St. Joseph church, who spoke earlier in the evening. "No matter what a woman may achieve in the social or business world, there is nothing grander for her than to build a home," declared Father Cyprian. "The dignity and glory of a life well lived are reflected in the face of a mother."

Not Always Honored

Father Biegler pointed out that mothers had not always received their due, as he told of the pagans who believed that their women had neither intellect nor immortal soul. It was not until Christ chose a woman to be his own mother and made special provision for her that he was doing on the cross that mothers received their due honor and dignity, he said.

Motherhood, he declared, is a divine institution and calling, and he regretted that lack of decency and modesty in women and loss of respect for them were so prevalent today.

In conclusion he quoted approvingly Kathleen Norris' statement that it might be well if girls today put less emphasis on education, important though it is, and more on imitating their mothers.

About 250 mothers and daughters of St. Joseph parish attended the banquet, which was given under the auspices of the Young Ladies sodality of the church.

Welcome Address

The after-dinner program opened with a short address of welcome by Miss Eileen Schomisch, president of the sodality, who also introduced the toastmistress, Miss Helen Nabefeld. On the program were two violin duets by Miss Ella Hartel and Miss Jeanette La Fond; a reading, "Pigs in Pigs," by Miss Cecile Haag; two vocal selections, "My Heart is a Silent Violin" and "Flower in the Crannied Wall," sung by Miss Evelyn Mertins, with Miss Marian Gerlach playing the piano accompaniment; acrobatics by the Misses Mabel and Ruby Looser; and saxophone and accordion selections by Dick and Donald Brown of Kaukauna.

The Rev. Father Hubert, who introduced the guest speaker, also gave the closing prayer.

Special honor was given to one of the mothers present, Mrs. John P. Gengler, who was observing her seventy-eighth birthday anniversary. She was given a bouquet of flowers.

New Delay in Building

LaCrosse Swimming Pool

LaCrosse — (P) — The city council last night decided against letting contracts for the construction of a municipal swimming pool, and approved a resolution ordering architects to prepare new plans for a pool to cost not over $75,000.

The action means another delay of 8 to 12 weeks before work can be started, and virtually makes impossible construction in time for use this summer. Under the first of two referendums which voters passed, the pool was to have been completed last June 1. The Mississippi river here has been condemned as unsanitary for swimming purposes, and a $30,000 beach house has been idle for five years.

Prolonged argument in the council over location of the pool, or two pools, cost the city PWA and WPA help, and delayed construction until prices of materials greatly advanced. Original estimates were that a pool could be built for not more than $50,000. Bids rejected last night totaled $91,377.

Auxiliary Hears Doctor's Plan for Cutting Deaths In U.S. From Childbirth

ADEQUATE care of mothers from an early period in pregnancy until after delivery would cut down childbirth mortality to a great extent, according to Dr. D. M. Gallaher, Appleton physician, who spoke before American Legion auxiliary last night at Odd Fellow hall on the subject of "Motherhood."

The American Medical society has defined adequate care of mothers, he said, dividing pregnancy into four periods when special care is needed. He pointed out that most women come to a physician in the fourth or fifth month which is too late, for if the physician could have charge of a woman from the first he could protect her against such things as organic diseases of the heart, kidneys, etc. Nausea, if taken early, can be controlled, said Dr. Gallaher.

The second period of pregnancy is the safest time, the speaker continued, for then a woman needs only to watch her weight and diet. In the third period there is need to control weight and note blood pressure as these are often indications of trouble.

Demand Anesthetics
In the last five or ten years, said Dr. Gallaher, there has been a great demand for anesthetics at the time of delivery, but, he warned, there is no anesthetic that can be given to all persons without danger for each individual is a case in herself.

Stressing the need for adequate care for mothers, Dr. Gallaher quoted statistics showing that in parts of the country where there is not much medical care, the mortality of child-bearing is 5 per cent, while in medical centers it has been reduced to 2 per cent. In Outagamie county, in 1934, he said, out of 459 women delivered in hospitals there were three deaths, and in 1936 the local hospital had 593 deliveries and no deaths.

Infection after childbirth caused the most trouble, said the speaker, but medical men feel that this is inexcusable if they have charge of the patient all during pregnancy.

Avoid Visiting
Speaking of the work to be done in this community, Dr. Gallaher urged his listeners to discourage too much visiting in the maternity wards of hospitals, for he pointed out that a woman who has just had a baby is prone to infections of all kinds. He also requested the women to spread the doctrine of early medical care to mothers in this community, stating that there are women who do not call a physician until the time of delivery.

Following Dr. Gallaher's talk last night Mrs. Mary King spoke on the origin of the poppy, stating that the little flowers are made by needy veterans who are not drawing government compensation, and that this flower has become a symbol of the World war as it grew everywhere in France. Mrs. H. W. Miller gave a report which was given by Mrs. Cora Brown, state poppy chairman, at the state convention last year in Neenah-Menasha.

District Conference
The Ninth district conference to be held at Marinette Wednesday was discussed and the unit voted to endorse the candidacy of Mrs. H. W. Miller for first vice president of the department of Wisconsin.

The following is a passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Suffering, sinning, dying beliefs are unreal. When divine science is universally understood, they will have no power over man for man is immortal and lives by divine authority. The harmony and immortality of man are intact. We should look away from the opposite supposition that man is created materially, and turn our gaze to the spiritual record of creation, to that which should be engraved on the understanding and heart 'with the point of a diamond' and the pen of an angel."

Neatby was the boy, Jimmie Tierman, his throat cut but still alive. He is expected to recover.

Consentino's account of Mrs. Tierman's purported confession quoted her as saying:

Little Jimmy and his sister Helen were happy, playing about and picking flowers.

"I hesitated," Mrs. Tierman was quoted as saying. "I didn't want to go through with it. Finally little Helen came over near where I was. She stooped to pick a flower. Jimmy was a little distance away.

"George grabbed the hatchet and hit Helen on the head three times. Helen fell over on her back. I took the knife and cut her throat. Helen screamed. Jimmy heard her and came running toward me, crying 'mommy, mommy, what happened?'"

Prize Play Shorn Of Some Lines in Omaha Performances

Omaha, Neb. — (P) — The Pulitzer prize winning play, "Idiot's Delight," can be presented here tonight but it must be shorn of some of its lines, particularly those containing profanity, and its references to "the Governor Bryan hotel in Omaha."

Those are Mayor Dan B. Butler's orders, and Mrs. Howard Rushton, president of the Omaha Drama league which is sponsoring the presentation, says the two Broadway stars of the play, Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, and the manager of their company have agreed to abide by them.

"There will be no play unless the company promises that objectionable passages will be removed," the mayor informed Mrs. Rushton. "If the promise is made but not kept, then, when the first objectionable passage is spoken, some of the actors are going to jail."

Helen, George lit a match and put it on the gasoline.

"I took the children's shoes off and some of their clothes so they couldn't be traced. I took them home."

"George drove me to the railroad station. I came home by myself and he came home in the car."

Christodulus said he was not with Mrs. Tierman on Saturday, and he denied also the statement attributed to her that he had given her an engagement ring and sought to marry her.

Player Asks Expert to Place Blame on Hand

BY ELY CULBERTSON
(Copyright, 1937: Ely Culbertson)
"Dear Mr. Culbertson: The enclosed hand came up in a recent pair tournament (match point scoring). I was North. My partner and I had a very bad result on this board and (as I imagine is usual in such cases) each of us thinks that the other was entirely to blame. Please decide, and fix the guilt. South, dealer.

The bidding:

"My partner maintains that I was 'fixed' by the opponents' psychic bidding; that my takeout of the two no trump double and redouble to three spades was a show of weakness and that, therefore he thought three spades was the limit of our hands. I made the three spade bid because, while I knew that the opponents must be doing some psychic bidding, I was afraid that they could control the opening lead and run off a long, solid minor suit. I claim that after I had bid three spades there was no excuse for South to stop one short of game. Who was right?

"Your very truly,
"R. V. P., Minneapolis."
Your partner was right. It was all very well for you to decide that the opponents could control the opening lead and then run off something like a seven card diamond suit, but in making such a decision you were, in effect, calling your own partner a nitwit. He had taken positive action over the two no trump bid, action that flatly stated he did not fear two no trump. Why should you be the "smart" player of your team? Couldn't partner size up the bidding, also, and if he thought there was any chance of the catastrophe you mentioned, either go on with his own bidding or pass for your decision? I agree with your partner that your takeout actually showed not what was in your mind but a very weak hand so weak that you could not cooperate in the defense of two no trump. That being so, I consider his stop at three spades correct.

I call your attention to the fact that, even with the diagnosis you had made of the situation, after partner's strong bidding, to be consistent you might have jumped to four spades. As a matter of fact, you should not have taken out the double at all, but waited until the opponents showed up their own psychic by running.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Question: Is it correct to open the bidding with one club on the following hand?

Answer: No. This hand should be passed.

Jo-Jotte Pointer

Although either player has the privilege of exchanging the seven of trumps for the turned trump, provided the hand is played at that suit, there often is good reason not to exercise this privilege. Obviously, it would be foolish, for example, for the nondeclarer to exchange the lone seven of trump for the ten when there is every likelihood that the declarer will win the ten in his own tricks. To exchange here simply would increase your opponent's score by ten points.

The declarer also should refuse to exchange if his adversary has scored a meld which insures the defeat of his contract, or if the seven is part of a meld which is of greater value than the turned trump itself.

The Fern Family

More than 4,000 kinds of ferns are known. They differ in height from tiny plants only an inch or two high to great tree-ferns which are higher than most fruit trees. All continents of the earth have ferns, and they are found growing wild in woodland places.

An Ostrich Fern.

Most plants have flowers—even the tough old cactus that grows on the desert—but ferns do not have real flowers. They come to "fruit," however, and produce "spores." The spores are not classed as seeds, for they will not grow into ferns after taking root.

When spores take root little plants grow up with tiny heart-shaped leaves. These plants do not look like ferns, but they produce what we may call "true fern seeds."

Then the little plants with heart-shaped leaves die, their duty having been done.

Don't Try to Correct Left-Handed Children

BY ANGELO PATRI

A little girl refused to go to school any more, saying that she did not like her teacher.

"I don't know any reason why Jeanette should dislike me," said the teacher. "I have always tried to help her every way I could. She gets failure in spelling almost every day, and I try to get her to learn her words. But I've never done anything to make her dislike me. Not that I could help, anyway."

"She didn't do anything to me," sobbed Jeanette. "But I don't like her. I don't like school. And I won't go any more."

Now when a perfectly good little girl says things like that, and cries in a heart-broken fashion, there is something seriously wrong somewhere and the school folks have to find what it is.

"Do you get good marks in lesson, Jeanette?"

"Yes, I do. I get A's mostly and a few B's. But in spelling I always get D. The words are too hard for me."

"Well, that's too bad. Maybe we can help you with them. Are they too hard for the others or do they get a passing mark on them?"

"They all pass but me. Nearly everybody gets a hundred and the teacher calls them out. All the hundreds get on line, and they get on line and I'm sitting in my seat, all by myself, and all the hundreds are looking at me. I feel so dumb. I just can't stand it. I'm not dumb."

"Of course not. Don't cry another tear over it. We'll find a way to help a bright little girl to spell all right."

And what do you suppose was the matter? She was not hard of hearing. Her eyes were fine. Her hands were perfect in every way. Her penmanship was not so good, it was a queer kind, but it was careful and neat. Her memories were all in good working order, except this one for spelling. She would look at a word, pronounce it, spell it, copy it correctly, and the next minute, write it as if she had never seen or heard of it before.

We noticed that as she wrestled with a word she would change her pencil from the right hand to the left; then, bothered, change back.

"Which hand do you like best to write with, Jeanette?"

"I used to write with my left hand, but the teacher made me learn to write with my right and now I can't write good with either of them. I get all mixed up when I write."

Then we knew what the trouble was. Jeanette was really left-handed and should have been taught to write with her left hand. In changing handedness she "got all mixed up," a very accurate description of

New Things Make Life Interesting

BY ELSIE PIERCE
NEW interests, new faces, new clothes, new places—these are the tonics that make life more full, more whole and livable. I have noticed that the search for the new is closely related to the search for beauty. The reason for the desire of the new is to be found in the very root of Nature herself. Nature has her four seasons. The change from spring to summer, from fall to winter, from summer to fall—no matter how near one is to Nature these changes always have an element of surprise about them. The human eye is always in search of something new. It responds with spontaneity to a change of scene, to the flash of a new picture.

New Styles
That accounts for and justifies the need for new styles. That explains why the dress you felt was so becoming a year ago suddenly looks drab and dowdy to you. Because the constantly changing styles bring your tastes up to date and make the new seem more flattering. Actually the new may be more becoming. It should be. If it isn't, be faithful to the old until you can affect an improvement. Let your creed be "the new by all means, providing it is becoming."

Good Grooming Not Enough
And we come to the new theory of beauty—that beauty can be self-made. We come to the new definition of beauty: new standards. A few years ago it was enough that a woman was impeccably groomed. Today the standards call for the addition of a very essential ingredient, a new ingredient: glamour. To achieve glamour one must study one's own "old self." After all, there are just three ways to achieve newness. In clothes, in culture, in make-up. In these three avenues, glamour is hidden. Study your shortcomings, then study the short cuts to these avenues.

Adopt from the newest styles, those that are best suited to your type, your line. We cannot disregard style influences entirely. Style is essential. We feel more confident when we know we are "in style." But we can discard or refuse to adopt such versions of the style as do not "do things for us." The important thing, then, is to use the general trend as a basis and make the necessary changes to achieve the utmost glamour for ourselves. This ever-changing picture of Beauty makes more and more demands of us, and the more demands that are made, the more we women manage to live up to them.

My bulletin on "Good Grooming and Personal Daintiness Hints" is yours for the asking. This is the foundation upon which to build for glamour. Please enclose a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope with your request. Address Miss Pierce in care of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

What happened to her language ability.

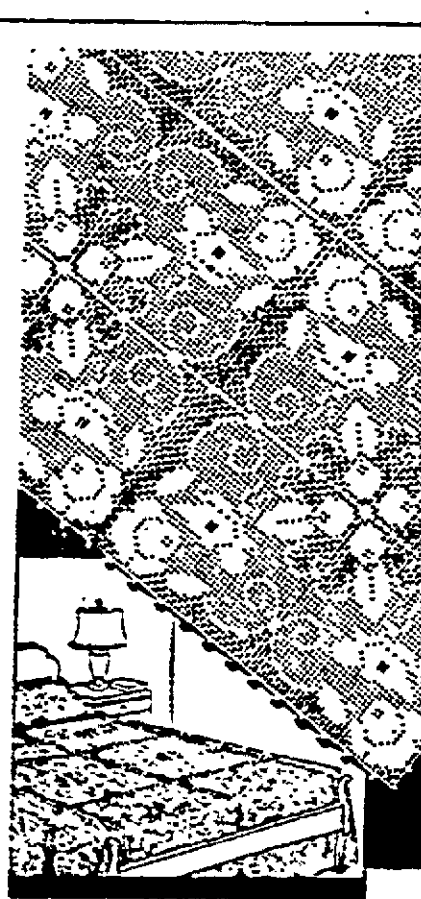

Let the left-handed child alone. Any effort to change his handedness is likely to make trouble, of one sort or many, in his language powers. Let his hands alone. If he uses them both with equal power, let him do as he wishes. His handedness may look wrong to you, but it is comfortable for him, just as yours is for you. Changing hand power is dangerous to the language activities, speech, reading, writing, composition, spelling. Being left-handed is nothing compared to being a stutterer, now is it? Then watch out.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from students and hobbyists on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Dix Holds Daughters are Most Comfort to Parents

BY DOROTHY DIX
Dear Miss Dix—A number of us have been arguing about which are more valuable to their parents—boys or girls. What do you think? We want your opinion.
CORA.

DOROTHY DIX

The tradition that a son is more valuable to his parents than a daughter is founded upon the old order when men were needed for fighting, for hunting, for tilling the soil and when the support of a family depended on them. Then girls were just so much excess baggage, so to speak. Months to be fed, backs to be clothed, they were a burden upon their families until they could be unloaded on husbands. So it was no wonder that the advent of a son was hailed with feasting and joy and the birth of a girl was an occasion for lamentations and weeping.

But all of that is changed now. In poor families girls get to work as soon as boys. Most of them earn as much and are far more generous to their families with what they make. It is the girls who fix up the home and buy Mother and Father new clothes and little comforts. But so far from appreciating this and realizing how much more their daughters do for them than their sons do, many parents feel that they have a right to all that a girl earns and take her pay envelope from her as a matter of course while they do not dream of treating their sons that way. Many a mother who confiscates Mary weekly without even so much as saying "thank you" boasts of what a good son John is if he makes her an occasional present.

Furthermore, when the children marry and go about the business of life for themselves, it is the daughters who never waver in their affections for the old people at home. No matter how busy they are they find time for their weekly letter to

When the old home is broken up it is the daughters who take their parents in to live with them, not the sons, except rarely. No matter how big their houses there is not room enough in it for the old people, but a daughter can always find a place for Mother or Father even if she lives in a shack.

Most of the men who are supporting old people are taking care of their wives' parents, not their own.

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am a boy 16 years old and in high school. My 17-year-old sister is a pest. She is always lecturing me about my telling dirty jokes. All my friends like them. Why shouldn't I tell them? She keeps on talking about how awful it is to be dirty-minded and about my missing the beautiful things in life and I think she is crazy. Do you think there is anything wrong in telling dirty jokes?

Old Gardener Says:

BY E. I. FARRINGTON
Tubers of many of the newer varieties of dahlias are not yet available in the trade. However, some of these varieties can be purchased as green plants growing in pots. As these plants have been grown in the greenhouse, it is important that they be carefully harrowed and not set in the garden until all danger of frost is past. When the plants arrive from the grower, they should be carefully unpacked and watered thoroughly. They should then be allowed to rest for several hours, or several days, away from the sun and wind. The best time to set them in the ground is just before sundown. Dig a hole, cup-like, fifteen inches in diameter and six inches deep at the center.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

BY EMILY POST

A WEDDING IN THE GARDEN

If you are interested in the plan for an evening wedding which is to take place in a summer garden, and happen to have missed the letter from a bride-to-be and my answers to her opening questions, I can only hope it is not too late to turn to yesterday's paper.

As to clothes: There is no reason why you couldn't wear a soft satin dress and your bridesmaids perhaps dresses of chiffon or organdy or cotton lace with satin sashes to give them a suggestion of being designed to go with your dress. Hats in a garden, even in the evening, are lovely, but they should of course be made of the thinnest possible material. Tulle, for example, with very fine wire to hold the brim, and with narrow velvet ribbon around the crown and falling into "follow me" streamers down the back. Or if you prefer that the bridesmaids wear no hats, very small wreaths of flowers in the shape of coronets would also be very pretty. Or if you are very young, ordinary ring-shaped wreaths would be very sweet. In any case, they are prettier when made of artificial flowers because they are so much neater in effect as well as lighter in weight.

The color scheme of the wedding would naturally depend upon the colors of the flowers in the garden. Good bridesmaids' bouquets chosen to go with or be in contrast to the color that predominates.

I think the men would be most suitably dressed in white dinner (tuxedo) coats, with black trousers, of course, and no waistcoats (since coats should be double-breasted), turn-down but starched collars, black evening ties. Don't forget that the men's white boutonnières should have a green leaf or two back of them since they would otherwise be invisible against their white lapels. White roses or any white flowers of suitable size would make lovely boutonnières.

Invitations would not mention the garden. Which again brings us back to the unpleasant thought of rain. Let us hope that there is a good sized veranda with awnings that can drop down in case it rains hard. Otherwise you have no choice but to put the altar and your kneeling bench wherever there is greatest space. Or if practical have a tent put up at the last moment and decorate it with flowers that would otherwise have been left in the garden.

The collation would probably be set in the dining room—at least this is usual. But if the evening is beautiful, this does not keep those who love to stay outdoors from carrying their plates and glasses into the garden.

Celery, onions and green pepper when they are to be added to stuffings or meat fillings are better when cooked for five minutes in a small amount of water.

Kaukauna—Seeking to organize a chapter of the National Honorary society at Kaukauna High school, a committee appointed by Superintendent James F. Cavanaugh has drafted a constitution and made formal application for entrance to H. V. Church of Chicago, executive secretary of the organization.

The committee composed of Miss Frances Corry, Miss Evelyn Handran, and Coach Paul Little, in submitting the constitution, asked that if a unit be established here, it be known as the Austin Grignon chapter, in honor of the city's pioneer family.

In order to make the group active instead of merely recipient of an honor, the committee wrote in a clause in the constitution providing for an open meeting at the opening of each semester to plan some "worthwhile educational program." Members must be at least juniors and must have outstanding scholastic and service records. They are admitted usually by a vote of the faculty and are given certificates and gold keys.

Breakfast Opens Observance of Insurance Week

E. A. Dettman Gives Talk
On Relation of Policies and Taxation

Observance of National Insurance week in Appleton was opened today morning by the Appleton Life Underwriters association with an 8 o'clock breakfast at the Conway hotel.

E. A. Dettman, Appleton, certified public accountant, spoke on "Life Insurance and Its Relation to Taxation." He outlined the advantages of life insurance, for inheritance, estate and gift taxation and explained how less taxes would be necessary. He pointed out that this was avoiding and not evading taxation.

The association is affiliated with the National Association of Life Underwriters and the Wisconsin State Association of Life Underwriters. W. E. Smith was named delegate at large to the state convention to be held June 17 at Madison. John Trautman was named state committeeman for three years. He and the officers, George Nixon, president; M. G. Fox, secretary; and George Wehangel, national committeeman, also are delegates.

The state board of directors and convention committees will meet next week at Madison to discuss convention plans. Appleton insurance men on the various committees are M. G. Fox, W. E. Smith, George Wehangel, George Nixon, John Trautman, J. Bon Davis, Charles C. Baker, and Carl Sherry. Committees were named recently by E. G. MacDonald, state president.

Carl Sherry is general chairman in charge of the week's observance. Speakers for the various meetings which will be held during the week will be selected by W. E. Smith, chairman of the meeting and speakers bureau committee. C. C. Baker and M. B. Herber are co-chairmen of the publicity and radio committee, with M. F. Fox and J. Man Missing Over 30 Years Found as He Seeks Pension

Lake Geneva, Wis. —(AP)—Missing for more than thirty years, George Small, a former Lake Geneva resident, was located yesterday through an old age pension application.

Small, now blind, asked Sheriff Phil M. Brown of Iron County, Ill., to write to Lake Geneva to obtain the signature of two people who had known him there so he would be able to file his application. The sheriff's letter was received by T. D. Stroupe of the police department. He supplied one of the required signatures, and scoured the city for the other. He found E. J. Host who had known Small.

It was three decades ago that Small disappeared following a quarrel with his wife who reprimanded him for forgetting to buy matches while he was on a errand. He left the house never to return, never sending word as to his whereabouts. His wife died several years ago.

MOTHER CONFESSES KILLING GIRL

New York police said Mrs. Helen Tiernan, 28-year-old waitress, confessed killing her eight-year-old daughter, Helen, and seriously injuring her five-year-old son, James, in a wooded section of Long Island near Brookhaven, N. Y. The boy, badly wounded and burned, is shown in a hospital after being found near the body of his sister.

Commercial Sailing Vessel to Pick Up Cargo of Pulpwood for Green Bay

Detroit —(AP)—The only commercial sailing vessel on the Great Lakes was northbound to pick up a cargo today, her three masts in strange contrast to the low lines of the great steel freighters that ply the inland waters.

Aboard her were George A. Fisher, master, and a crew of six, including youths from Detroit and Flint, Mich., sailing as apprentice seamen.

The 140-foot schooner J. T. Wings, far from the Atlantic ocean where most of her 16 years of service have been spent, was enroute to Neeshib island in the St. Mary's river, to load pulpwood for Green Bay, Wis.

Commercial service may become secondary to the schooner, said her owner, Grant H. Pigott, general manager of J. T. Wing and Co. of Detroit.

"We hope to use her as a training ship for boys interested in recapturing the adventure of sailing under canvas," he explained. Launched in 1921 in Nova Scotia and originally named the J. O. Webster, the schooner has had a long cargo career. She carried mahogany from East Africa to the New England ports. Once she ran aground off the Florida coast. Because she once was a rum-runner during prohibition days, she has no continuous log.

Pigott purchased the ship in 1935, sent her to dry-dock in No. ank, Conn., and brought her, completely refitted, to Detroit.

Merrill by A. F. L. Union

Merrill, Wis. —(AP)—Woodworkers affiliated with the A. F. L. went on strike today at the Anson and Gilkey plant following a meeting of workers last night at which the walkout was voted, 218 to 7.

Those familiar with labor history here believed it to be the first time in Merrill in the last 18 years. Pickets gathered at the plant at 6 a. m. to prevent workers from entering the factory. The men organized as a unit of the A. F. L. several months ago.

Demands were made for a closed shop, 40-hour week, and a wage scale ranging from 50 to 67 cents an hour.

Anson and Gilkey officials offered the employees a 5 per cent raise and a 50-hour week. A 10 per cent raise was given workers several weeks ago.

JOINS FIRE HERE
Leland L. Neville, D. S. C., formerly of Milwaukee, has become associated with the Foot Health clinic, 112 N. Oneida street. OUR MODERN AGE
By LEO J. MURPHY, D. C.
LOOKING FORWARD

The definite cause of the fire that made a towering, blackened mass of the Skies may never be known. Let us hope that the results will not be as disastrous. Matters have advanced so far and so many lives have been sacrificed for the world to abandon lighter-than-air craft. The United States has the helium gas that will make dirigibles safe. Germany has the designers and craftsmen that can make them fit. If these resources were combined the perfect ship could be constructed.

All the resources that the noble science of chiropractic has placed at our command are at the disposal of them who need relief from pain. Regardless of how long or how seriously you have suffered, you should consult Leo J. Murphy, of 231 Insurance Bldg., for a complete diagnosis today. Relief is yours for the asking.

It Is Said--

That there were an unusual number of motorcycles on the highways Sunday, bound for a hill climbing event at Green Bay, and that traffic officers chucked at the patrolmen report that as "in and out" drivers swung William the line of traffic and saw a motorcycle or two in the distance, they would swing right back into place again rather than risk the chance that the rider might be a policeman.

Says Quick Arrest, Certain Punishment Great Curb on Crime

Oshkosh —(AP)—Louis B. Nichols, administrative assistant to J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men, told 200 delegates to the Wisconsin Police Protective association convention yesterday that, "swift apprehension and certain punishment is the greatest deterrent to crime."

He said the majority of crimes in this country are committed by youths under 30, and that there are still 300,000 criminals in this country who are costing the taxpayers $3,000,000,000 yearly. Nichols explained that today's criminal is no longer a low-browed individual with the jargon of the underworld, but a cunning, scheming type who plans far in advance.

Lyle George, captain of the Racine police force, was reelected president of the policemen's association. It was his third election to the office.

John Arnold, Madison, was named vice president; Thomas King, Kenosha, secretary; and Louis Wrasse, Wauwatosa, Wis., treasurer.

Present Beliefs
Soon Forgotten

Dr. Dorothy Waples
Speaks at Lawrence Student Convocation

Dr. Dorothy Waples, associate professor of English, yesterday morning told Lawrence college students at a college convocation that many beliefs which they were holding now as the most important discoveries of their intellectual lives would in 10 years be wholly forgotten or largely discredited.

"I remember the popular beliefs that the class of 1917 held," she stated. "Those beliefs of 20 years ago are dead now. They sound foolish when compared with the beliefs of the class of 1937. Nevertheless many of your fondest ideas will have been proved worthless or unimportant in another ten years."

"I do wish, however, that youth of today would not accept a doctrine of passive indeterminateness about all matters. Youth seems incapable of deciding whether a thing is good or not, or of choosing any positive values when given a choice. Today's doctrine seems to be to accept it all good-naturedly, no matter just what it is, and make no attempt to evaluate. This is one of the beliefs that I wish our modern youth would find worthless."

Two Bureaus in Disagreement on Business Trend

One Says Pace Quickens
While Other Finds Upswing Is Halting

Washington —(AP)—The bureau of agricultural economics reported today the business upswing has leveled off, but commerce department officials said the industrial pace has quickened in recent months.

The bureau said in a monthly survey: "The marked upswing in business which began late last summer apparently is not continuing."

Whether the development will prove a minor setback or a serious interruption in the business upturn, it said, will depend on the amount of increase in private spending for construction and capital goods.

"Evidence pointing to large increases in business spending for rehabilitation and expansion of productive facilities in the near future is not particularly convincing," the bureau continued.

Less Building
"Residential building prospects for this year are less promising than before the recent large increases in construction costs."

Part of the present business slack may be due to expansion of consumer goods lines at a faster clip than construction and capital goods, it added.

Bureau statistics showed that production of such consumer goods as cotton, wool, shoes, gasoline and tobacco for the first quarter of 1937 climbed over the same period a year ago and equalled or topped 1929 levels.

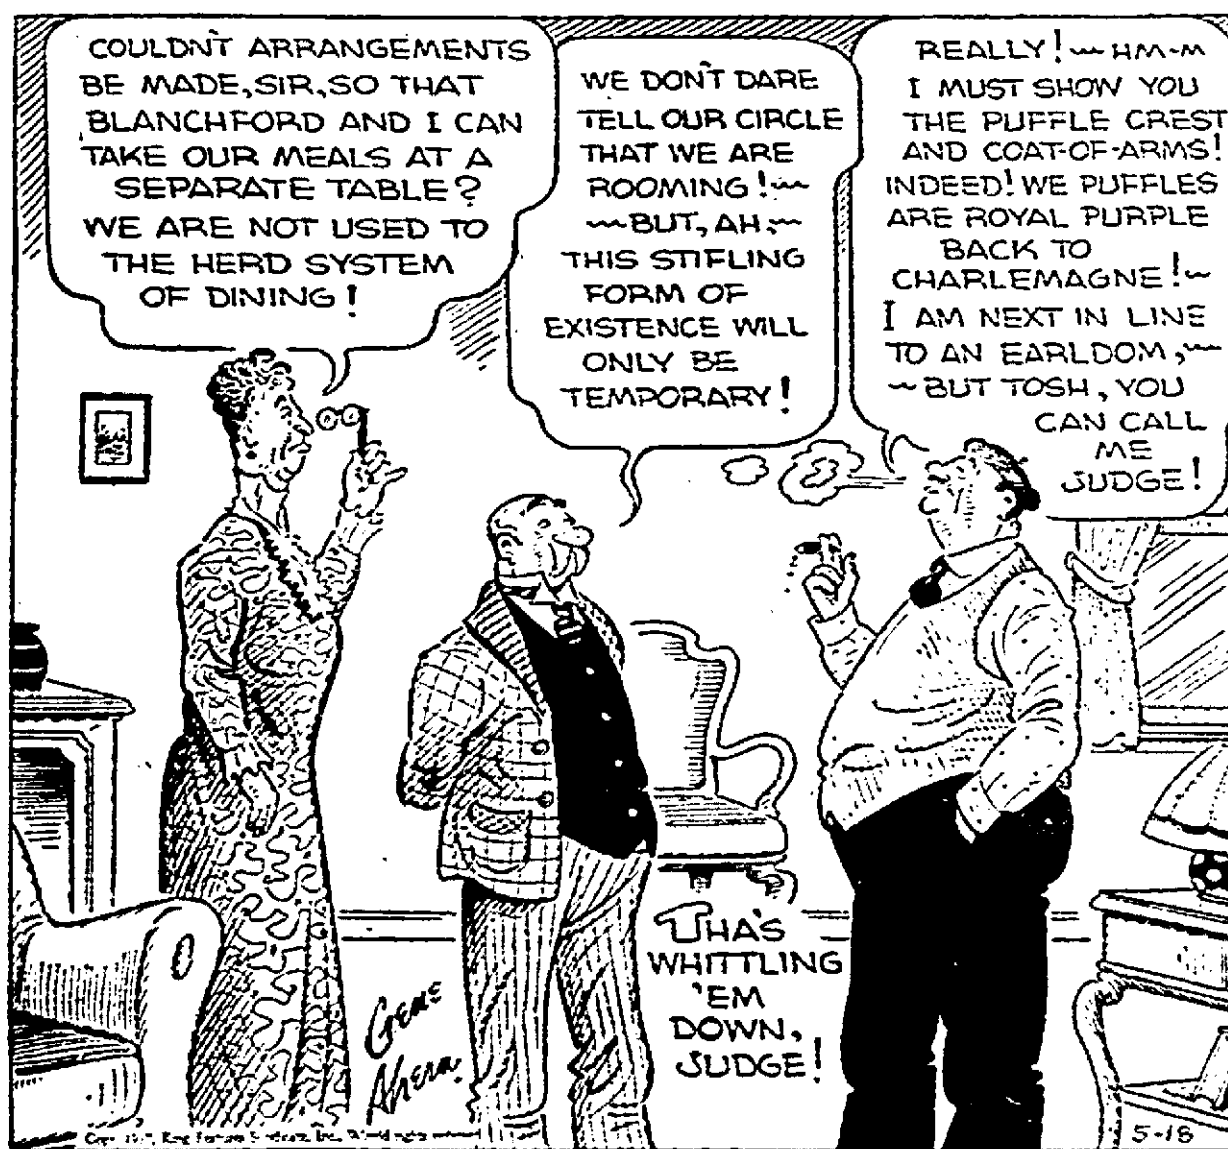

On the other hand, residential construction, locomotive orders, public works and similar heavy goods lines recorded either declines from a year ago or much smaller gains than consumer goods.

Commerce department officials agreed that the heavy goods have not moved upward as rapidly as consumer goods. They asserted, however, that in the aggregate business is lengthening its stride.

Industrial production for the first 1937 quarter was 21.9 per cent over the same 1936 period, these officials said, and this rate of increase was maintained through April and early May. This advance, they added, is greater than that during the last half of 1936.

From the federal reserve board came a report that March industrial production was 118 per cent of the 1923-25 average, compared with 93 per cent in the same month last year and 119 per cent for all of 1936.

EVE'S ORCHARD

By MARGARET WIDDEMER

SYNOPSIS: Eve Mannersfield, leftover bonfire, maybe. George manages to forget gay Denny when she learns he is to wed wealthy Mitzel. Resuming her aunt's baking business, she finds contentment in her beloved old house and orchard. "Uncle" Henry and serious little Judge, whose parents have left him with Eve, help her run the place. They adore Eve. So does George Cleveland, her steady, dependable neighbor. But he fires of warning and the same weekend that he comes engaged to Ellen Walton, Eve's actress friend. Eve knows she loves George and has lost him.

CHAPTER 39
FIRE AT GEORGE'S
"WHAT'S those words mean, Eve?" Judge asked as French tune that Uncle Henry invariably whistled at work. She turned to answer him, the brown serious little boy who was so sure now people were kind.

"It's French: 'The joy of love lasts only an hour. The pain of love forever and a day!'" Judge informed her. "I'm going to be a highly educated supreme court judge like my grandfather. I was named for George says I can if I want to hard enough. George says."

She wished he wouldn't talk about George. George, so near, escaped to Ellen, leaving her: roiling to be happy with her. Good kind little Ellen, splendid stable, George. At least she could be decent. She could love George enough to be glad it was Ellen, not some body who wouldn't make him happy. Glad that Ellen would be sure of kindness, ease, comfort, children.

No. She couldn't be glad of that. The knife that went through her at that was too sharp. Uncle Henry came in, whistling it still under his breath: Plaisir d'amour ne dure qu'un moment, Chagrin d'amour dure toute la vie. Well, perhaps it didn't. Perhaps it wouldn't. Aunt Lina had had her love affair that didn't end happily, but she'd gone on, she'd liked living, been content with her life.

These are for Mrs. Hickson to take to the Congregational church supper tomorrow night," she told Uncle Henry cheerfully. "Grand for me she was too late to bake. Nine dozen and a nice little batch left over for us."

"You're a good girl, Eve," Uncle Henry said approvingly, washing his hands at the sink. "I'm washing."

But all the evening, doing accounts at the old secretary, chasing Judge up to bed, planning with Uncle Henry, the vague, silly terror of what Lance Seymour might do to George persisted. She lay awake, watching the moonlight out her window. Her bed was so placed that she could glimpse one upper pane of glass just above the next rise down the road, and knew it was the window of George's bedroom. Suppose Lance should climb through. Or shoot at her. Or drop dreadful things in the papers.

She rose and stood close to her own window, watching the moonlight on the pane far off. She thought vaguely how Matt or Marilyn, those phantoms from a past time, would laugh over a girl who watched a man's window in moonlight, because she loved him. And did not care.

Eve sees flames. As she watched she saw something that was imagination, and then knew it was real. The thin pinkness, as of reflected flame. A

Urges Students To Take Part in School Activities

Marquette Football Coach Is Speaker at Annual Banquet

Menasha—Participation in school activities, be it football, basketball, golf, softball, volleyball or track, debate or dramatics, is urged by John L. "Paddy" Driscoll, head football coach, Marquette university, Milwaukee, guest speaker at the ninth annual booster banquet of St. Mary's High school last night in the school auditorium. More than 300 students, citizens and guests assembled in the gayly decorated gym where the junior prom is being held this evening, for the dinner and program at which Roman Suss was toastmaster.

"Don't sit around," warned Coach Driscoll. "Get into some activity. It will keep you out of mischief and it will make you a better citizen."

"Remember that a straight A student who does nothing but hit the books is lost when he gets out into the world. Remember that an athlete who is only there and works for the glory accorded athletes is also lost when he gets out into the world. You must balance your school life. You must prepare yourself to live in that world which you will enter when you leave school. Get the right outlook and the bumps won't count."

Coach Driscoll entertained his audience with many humorous experiences from his own athletic career and expressed his pleasure at being able to attend the banquet as their guest.

The 94-piece St. Mary High school band opened the banquet program following the blessing said by the Rev. John Hummel, pastor, St. Mary's church, with three selections which the band will play in the tournament at DePere Saturday. The selections were "March of Youth," "Morning, Noon and Night" and "Force of Destiny."

Gaily costumed children, not over 7 years old, entertained with a floor show which was opened by a dance by Lois Kaminski and Joan Rappert, Dorothy Suss accompanying at the piano.

Unser and Joan Rappert in white and blue miniature cadet uniforms presented a military dance and Donna Suss delighted the crowd with a clown dance. A miniature "man about town," Johnny Lehr, did a tap dance number after which Joan Rappert, Patricia Meyer, Ruth Russell and Lois Kaminski, dressed in green checked gingham overalls and tiny high top shoes, did a tap number. Henry J. Kryszak awarded the speech medals and letters. Dave Spaulding who is co-captain of the 1937 football team with James de Young, gave a brief discussion of the 1937 football prospects. Dorothy Suss outlined the senior class play. Anthony Will predicted the success of the 1937-38 basketball season and Marvin J. Miller, athletic coach gave out the basketball and boxing letters.

Show Movies
Movies of the 1936 football season were shown by the Rev. J. A. Becker, principal of St. Mary's school after which he showed pictures of the Hildebrand disaster which had been loaned through the courtesy of Peter Jung.

The Rev. John Hummel delighted his boys and girls and his parishioners with a brief message that contained both humor and seriousness.

The Rev. Fr. Becker concluded the program with a short talk and presentation of gifts and verbal tributes to those who assisted in aiding St. Mary's High school.

He announced that next year the tenth anniversary of St. Mary's High school would be observed and that in addition, and more important, was the celebration of the Rev. Fr. Hummel's fiftieth anniversary as a member of the priesthood.

Tribute was paid Dr. G. A. Foran, Clem Laesch, Peter Borenz, officials of the city for donations to the band, Fred Stulp, Roman Stulp, Dick Tuschner, Ira Clough, Charles Oberweiser and Rueben Killenhauser; the ushers at football and basketball games, Walter and Clarence Schmitzer, Harold and Fred Hansen, Hugo Pauer, Fred Stulp, and George Stine.

Expression of gratitude and a gift from the men of the parish was tendered G. W. Unser and Marvin Miller.

The ladies, "best boosters in the parish" were also thanked for their fine spirit of willingness to assist at all times and special mention was given Mrs. John Orth for her fine direction of activities.

Special awards for assistance in the school were given Katherine and Patricia Heenan, Dorothy Suss and Helen Orth, the latter "who although not a student in St. Mary's school now, always has her heart in St. Mary's."

John L. "Paddy" Driscoll, above, football coach at Marquette university, urged St. Mary's High school students to take part in school activities in an address last night at the annual booster banquet. He declared students who take part in activities make better citizens.

Forensic Letters Are Awarded to Eleven Students

Coach Explains Aims, Purposes of Public Speaking Program

Menasha—Eleven St. Mary's High school students were awarded forensic medals and letters at the ninth annual booster banquet at St. Mary's school auditorium Monday evening. Henry J. Kryszak, debate coach, made the presentations.

Declaring that it only one good civil leader, one good Catholic leader, was turned out in three years from St. Mary's school, the public speaking program of the school would have served its purpose. Mr. Kryszak named one student that St. Mary's had turned out who had become a civil leader. Edward Zieneger, present city alderman.

Margaret Kennedy was awarded the school medal in declamatory. William Spaulding in oratory. Rosemary Probst in Catholic Action and Katherine Ann Tuschner for district contest honors.

St. Mary's High school won 6 of the 8 debates this year, tying with Oshkosh for the best record in the Catholic conference. The debate cup was awarded Miss Tuschner who captained the team who had won all of its debates. In accepting the cup on behalf of the debaters, Miss Tuschner paid tribute to the coach who, she stated, made possible the success.

Letters were awarded the following debaters: Margaret Heil, Edna Aronschlag, Mary Ellen Jacobs, Margaret Stulp, Robert Kuchel, Ruth Miller and Katherine Ann Tuschner.

Attorney Rules Board Member Must Resign
Oshkosh—A ruling by Harry E. Meyer, city attorney, that Edward Duwe, board of public works member, must either resign from the board or the city of Oshkosh cannot do business with the Badger Concrete Co., with which Duwe is associated, caused considerable comment in the city council Monday.

Duwe has been on the board for several years. He is employed by the Badger Concrete Co. of Oshkosh, which makes concrete sewer pipes for municipalities among other things.

The opinion was asked for by Alderman Veranus D. Nevins, who stated he was only interested in seeing the city abided by the law. City Attorney Meyer ruled that where a public official's private business conflicts with his public duties, contracts between that firm and the city were void.

Mayor C. A. Quehrer came to the defense of Duwe, stating the concrete company did only $4,000 worth of the city last year, and then only when it was low bidder.

"Have you any evidence of collusion or fraud?" asked Alderman H. H. Priebe.

Nevins stated he had not, but said he had been refused employment because he had an official connection with the city. "Either enforce the law for all, or wink at all violations," he said.

Issue Four Building Permits for $4,400
Neenah—Four building permits valued at $4,400 have been issued by A. G. Prunuske, city engineer and building inspector. The permits are:

Speaker Sees Lionism as Representative of Idealism

Menasha—Lionism is the amplification of all the finer ideals of life," W. L. Boyden, Brillion, district governor of Wisconsin Lions clubs, told members of the Menasha Lions club at a luncheon meeting Monday noon at the Memorial building.

In his definition of Lionism, the district governor said, "Lionism is a religion without fanaticism and criticism, statesmanship without politics, education without superiority. It is the American army without the destruction that goes with it. It is intimacy without the resulting familiarity. Lionism includes unselfish service given without thought of personal benefits."

Mr. Boyden urged members of the local club to attend both the Lions district convention at Racine and the International Lions convention at Chicago. He said that local Lionism could be compared to graduation from a grammar school. Attendance at the district convention is comparable to graduation from high school and attendance at the international convention may be compared to graduation from college.

Praises Menasha
The district governor lauded the Menasha club on their activities in the last year. He said that the local group far exceeded other clubs of the same age in accomplishments. He also complimented the local club on the manner in which the state bowling tournament was conducted here this winter.

Because of the state convention next Monday and Memorial day the following Monday, no meetings will be held until June 1.

Green's May Sale of Hosiery and Men's Wear Continues All This Week

Calder Predicts Successful Year For Grid Squad

Menasha Football Team Ends Spring Practice Sessions

Menasha—After three weeks of football fundamentals during spring practice, prospects for the squad next fall look exceptionally fine, according to Coach N. A. Calder.

The spring practice session was brought to a close with an intersquad game last week in which gridgers showed plenty of what it takes to make a football team. The game was featured by hard blocking and tackling on both sides. The game ended in a 6 and 6 knot.

A tentative lineup was formed but the choice does not mean much at this time because of the plentiful supply of reserves who looked good this spring and will be in there pitching for positions next fall. The squad showed willingness to learn and with a few of the wrinkles ironed out should be second to none, the coach said, provided the boys do not get the idea that they have the conference title won before the season starts.

In spring workouts, tackle posing were held down by Captain Alvin Kolaskinski and Elden Grimm. Doing heavy duty at the guards were Henry Landskron and Dave Buksyk. The center position was held by Mervin Schneider, who received an all conference rating last fall.

In the backfield were numerous prospects who have seen plenty of action. Jake Drucks and Ray Henk worked out at fullback with Cliff Heiss at quarter. Good Halfbacks were plentiful with Bob Floyd, George Knoll, Ken DuCharme and Jack Finch being used most of the time.

5 to 4 Rulings

The court has since reversed itself and upheld a Washington state law fixing women's minimum wages. Plans also are underway for a revised railway pension measure.

Only 14 justices in the history of the nation have surpassed Van Devanter in length of service on the high court. He was a member of the tribunal for 26 years. The record of 34 years was established by Justice Field who served from 1863 to 1897.

The famed Chief Justice John Marshall, who died in 1835, was beaten by a few months.

Despite his age, Van Devanter appeared to be in excellent health. He delighted in tramping over his farm he recently bought in Maryland. And he went duck hunting as often as he could.

MackKnight Trial Enters 2nd Day At Jersey City

Witnesses Describe Scene In Kitchen Where Woman's Body Was Found

Jersey City, N. J., (AP)—With cool composure, Gladys MacKnight, 17, listened today to testimony by which the state seeks to send her and her former sweetheart to the electric chair for the hatchet slaying of her mother, a Bayonne club woman.

The small, athletic girl swung into court with a half smile on her face for the second day of her murder trial with Donald Wightman, 18.

Yielding to curiosity, she stole one glance at the youth she had ignored since the trial began. She watched his entry, which followed hers, and saw him standing in the door in handcuffs, smiling at his parents. Quickly she looked away.

Impassive, she heard two more state witnesses describe the grim scene on the kitchen floor when the body of her mother, Mrs. Helen MacKnight, 47, was found, the night of last July 31.

Arthur W. Johnson, a young man who lived on the other side of the MacKnight house, told the jury of hearing "a scuffle, a loud scream and a suppressed scream" in the MacKnight kitchen before the slaying.

Saw Fair Leave

Dr. Thomas F. O'Brien, dentist who lived next door to the MacKnights, told of seeing Gladys and Wightman drive away in the MacKnight automobile after the slaying.

Two grave-faced fathers sat in a courtroom trying to aid their children on trial on first degree murder charges in the hatchet slaying.

Gray-haired Edgar MacKnight sat only a few feet behind his daughter, Gladys, charged with slaying her mother, his wife.

A few rows away sat the father of Gladys' former sweetheart, Donald.

MacKnight, mechanical engineer for a Bayonne cable company, awaited the state's call for one of the hardest tasks of his life—to walk to the witness chair and tell a jury how he came home from work on a hot summer night and found his wife's body.

That call was expected to come today. Donald's father, Joseph Wightman, steward for a yacht club, was seated beside his wife, anxiously watching.

Costello Facing Possible Contempt Action in House

Madison — Assemblyman Theodore Swanson (P), Ellsworth, introduced a resolution today asking Assemblyman Emil Costello (D) to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for absenting himself from legislative sessions without permission.

The resolution said Costello, an organizer from the Committee for Industrial Organization, had been absent each legislative day from April 9 to May 17, and that on 12 of those days he was absent without leave, including 9 consecutive days from April 27 to May 10.

An assembly rule forbids any member from being absent without leave but the rule has not been strictly enforced for minor infractions.

If the resolution is adopted the assembly must determine the procedure to be taken. It was placed on the calendar.

Costello was engaged in C. I. O. organization work in various parts of the state during his absence. He returned to the assembly a week ago and announced he had been ill for 12 days.

His request for a leave for the rest of the week was granted. He attended today's session.

Assemblyman Swanson is a Pierce county farmer.

Drivers of Milk Wagons Declare Strike at Wausau

Closed Shop Issue Involved: Prepare to Prevent All Milk Sales

Wausau — Milk wagon drivers went on strike today, tied up delivery and forced householders to go to dairy plants for their supplies.

The drivers, members of an American Federation of Labor truck drivers' union, permitted deliveries to hospitals and made no effort to prevent over-the-counter sales at the dairy plants.

Robert King, union president, said that tomorrow all sales, except to hospitals, invalids or homes in which there are persons receiving milk under a doctor's prescription, would be prevented.

The strike affected the city's five dairies—the Kleinheinz Dairy Co., Lemke Milk Products Co., Levenhagen Dairy Products Co., Marathon Creamery Co., and the Stuebner Dairy Co.

Company officials said 6 per cent of the drivers were on strike. Union spokesmen said all of the 60 drivers walked out.

The dispute involved in the closed shop question. The union made three demands: use of union rolls in hiring new men; instructions to new employees to join the union within 90 days; instructions to old

Seymour High Tracksters Repeat as Little Nine Champs

Kimberly Second; Four New Records Set by Athletes

Champions Win 8 Firsts; Engel Boys Pace the Victors

SEYMOUR High school's well balanced track and field team repeated as champion of the Little Nine conference here Monday afternoon, in the annual meet of the circuit at George A. Whiting field of Lawrence college, when it scored 76 points, twice as many as the second place Kimberly squad. It was the second title for Coach Paul Loftus' squad in four years for Friday afternoon Seymour won the district Class C title at Green Bay. Third place went to Winnebago with 29½ points, fourth to Hortonville with 26½, fifth to Brillion with 23, sixth to Hilbert with 2 while Wrightstown went scoreless. Seymour counted first in eight events, the mile, high jump, pole vault, broad jump, shot, high hurdles, quarter mile and relay race, and scored at least three points in every event. The Engel family set the pace for the victors with R. Engel getting a first in the shot and high hurdles and D. Engel first in the broad jump, fifth in the 100 and 220 and running on the relay squad.

SETS LITTLE 9 DISCUS MARK

Pete Van Sambeck, above, Kimberly High school track team's weight man, took first honors in the discus yesterday afternoon at the annual Little Nine conference meet at Whiting field, when he got off a toss of 112 feet, 7 inches. It was more than four feet over the old record set by V. Williams, also of Kimberly, several years ago. Kimberly took second in the meet standings. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Chicago C. Y. O. Fighters Again Will Meet Saints

GREEN BAY — The amateur boxing team of St. Norbert college and the Chicago Catholic Youth Organization, which battled to a 4-4 deadlock at the Columbus Community club recently, will clash again—in an outdoor card at City stadium Monday evening, June 7. The fights will be staged for the benefit of the East-West high schools athletic sweater fund. Announcement that the brilliant C. Y. O. fighters had been re-engaged following their spectacular showing here last month was made last week by the Rev. T. G. Fox, O. Praem., St. Norbert college athletic director. One-half of the net gate will be turned over to a committee of East-West alumni, who will use the proceeds to purchase sweaters for athletes in football, basketball and track who earn them during the 1937-38 season. This committee now is being organized. Although the recent St. Norbert-C. Y. O. card was acclaimed the best amateur dual ring meet ever presented for Northeastern Wisconsin fans, the June 7 card is likely to eclipse it in quality. Head Coach Tom O'Connell of the C. Y. O. has promised an outstanding team, headed by most of the boys who fought St. Norbert's Belting Brigade to the 4-4 tie. William Goldsmith, scrappy Negro welterweight who knocked down Aaron Canadeo, will be back again, aiming for his second consecutive victory over the vengeful meeting. O'Connell is anxious for the meeting. O'Connell also intends to defeat Frankie Kainrath, who defeated Al Scarlati in the finals of the Tournament of Champions, here to meet Scarlati again. If Kainrath is tied up with the Chicago Tribune Golden Gloves team at that time, Eddie O'Connell probably will be rematched with Scarlati. Left: Fights Chestley Again. Joe O'Connell will battle Lauron Chesley again at 126 pounds. Tony Motisi will be back for another great fight with Johnny Anderson; Bill Palmer probably will be rematched with Al Ulrich. One of the C. Y. O.'s crack crew of heavyweights, possibly Joe Howe, will be imported to meet Tom Kennedy. Coach O'Connell also will bring Cornelius Young and Jake Lampkins, two boys who sparked on the last card, to City stadium for the June show. It is possible that either Johnny Gorman or Florentino Arreguin of the C. Y. O. will fight Chestley. Instead of Joe O'Connell, the visitors will arrive 24 hours before the time of the bout, and will make known their exact lineup within a few days.

Kimberly Man Heads Little 9

John R. Gerrits Named President at Meeting Here Yesterday

Principal John R. Gerrits, Kimberly, was elected president of G. R. Lesnikow, Winnebago, vice president, and Herb Simon, Kimberly, secretary and treasurer of the Little Nine conference at a meeting of representatives of schools here yesterday. Schools in the league are Seymour, Bear Creek, Shiocton, Hortonville, Winnebago, Kimberly, Hilbert, Wrightstown, Reedsville, Brillion and Denmark. Application of Pulaski for readmission to the conference was pre-empted by Coach Felix Prebroski and will be voted on at the fall meeting. Pulaski was a member of the circuit several years ago but withdrew. The conference will play basketball officials $10 a game, and to discontinue the basketball playoff for the conference championship. The divisional winners will receive trophies. The conference playoff was abandoned because it makes the season too long and conflicts with tournaments. The conference softball playoff has been tentatively scheduled for Kimberly, May 25. Winnebago and Shiocton are leading in the Western division and Brillion, Denmark and Kimberly in the Eastern division.

Placed on Track

The ring will be placed on the running track in front of the south stands, and all persons will be kept off the football field, which at this time of year could be damaged easily. Some ringside seats will be arranged on the track, and others will form a semi-circle near the ring in the stands. Prices will be $1.10, 75 cents and 40 cents, with a special 25-cent rate for students. Lettermen of St. Norbert college, East and West high schools will serve as ushers. A light will be rigged up over the ring, and the football lighting plant on the south side of the field also will be operated. The press section, likely to be well occupied that evening, probably will be installed on the north side of the ring.

Badgers Point at 2nd In Big 10 Ball Race

Madison — The University of Wisconsin baseball team, occupying third place in the Big Ten standings, will try to retain its position and possibly move up to second in three games this week against Northwestern and Illinois.

The Badgers will meet the fourth-place Wildcats Wednesday at Camp Randall and will entertain the second-place Illini in a two-game series Friday and Saturday.

Coach Lowell Douglas said he will put his ace hurlers, John Martin, Walter Zuehlis and Irwin Dougan against the invaders in an attempt to improve on the Badgers' four wins and one loss in conference competition.

Postel, Indiana, set new Big Ten mark of 1:52.9 for half-mile. Five Years Ago—Babe Ruth hit seventh home run of season and Yankees beat Indians for ninth straight victory.

No Bones Broken When Cronin Is Hit by Ball

Washington—(AP)—Misfortune has caught up with Joe Cronin again. He was struck on the cheek yesterday by a ball thrown by Pinky Higgins. He was carried to a hospital but an X-ray showed no broken bones. He was kept in Washington overnight as a precaution, and planned to follow the Red Sox back to Boston today.

It was only a few weeks ago the experts said Manager Cronin wasn't good enough to make his own team. They figured he would weaken the Boston lineup if he elected to be a playing pilot.

But the early weeks of the American league season have seen no comeback more spectacular than his.

Lighter by many pounds and in great condition, Cronin has been the spark of the Boston infield at shortstop. His batting average is .417, and his all-around play is reminiscent of a few years ago when he was rated the most valuable player in the league.

Milwaukee Club Loses to Indians In Long Contest

Battles 14 Innings Before Succumbing by Score Of 3 to 2

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP)—After tying the score in the eighth and again in the ninth frame, the Milwaukee Brewers fought to the end of a 14-inning game only to lose it 3-2 when an Indianapolis man was forced home from third.

Relief Pitcher Ralph Winegarner hurled a brilliant relief role for seven innings, but weakened in the last session. In the home end of the fourteenth, Danny Taylor scored by Berger. Hogan was intentionally passed, and Pinch-Hitter Lewis fanned to make it two down. Parker walked after a long stay in the batter's box. Phillips was up with three men on. He took the first three for balls, the next two for strikes, and the next for the fourth ball, forcing in the next.

The Toledo Mud Hens, who finished in the American association cellar last season, are serving notice that they are after nothing less than a first division berth this year. The brood took Minneapolis into camp yesterday, 5 to 1, behind five-hit pitching by Clyde (Mad) Hatter recently obtained from the Detroit Tigers. The game was a battle until the Hens went into action in the late innings, scoring once in the seventh and three times in the eighth.

Louisville defeated Kansas City, 15 to 10, in the third night contest. Columbus pounded out a 9 to 6 victory over St. Paul in the only afternoon game to gain an even break in their series.

Cubs and Cardinals Tie for Title at McKinley High School

Winning three out of four games, the Cubs and Cardinals are tied for first place in the high school softball league at McKinley High School, according to Ray Monteth, athletic director. The All-Stars, the third entrant in the loop, lost their four starts.

The Cubs lineup during the tournament included: G. Cotter, H. Stumpf, M. Bohatschek, R. Steudel, N. Nofke, L. Spletter, W. Smith, R. Krause, J. Stocker and E. Clark. Members of the Cardinals team were G. Koss, C. Miller, C. Stiner, N. Roeland, W. Thompson, E. Krueser, H. Refke, M. Nyomen, V. Helms, E. Kerswill and J. Parks.

Jimmy Deshong Hangs Up Fourth Straight Victory

Beats Boston Red Sox, 4-3; Al Simmons Blasts Home Run

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
F Washington's Senators today are resting at the bottom of the American league, despite a percentage 18 points better than that of the sixth-place Phillies in the National, it is no fault of right-hander Jimmy Deshong.

When he set down the Red Sox yesterday with seven hits, 4-3, it was his fourth straight victory since he went in against the Cleveland Indians on May 4 and turned in a winning eight-innings relief job.

His flinging yesterday overshadowed anything the Philadelphia Athletics could do as they swung back to the top of the standing with a 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees and was fully as good as lanky Bill Lee's elbowing that gave the Cubs a 5-2 decision over Cincinnati's Reds. Only these three game were on the big-league schedule yesterday.

Deshong, former Yankee hurler now in his second season with the Nats, appeared in 34 games last year, won 18 and lost 10. He seems well on his way to an equally successful 1937 campaign.

Al Simmons' third homer and Joe Kuhel's three hits paced the Senators' nine-hit attack yesterday on Wes Ferrell, who lost his fourth game of the year.

Joe Cronin hurt. It was an unfortunate day all around for the Red Sox, who join the other eastern American league teams today in meeting the inaugural meeting of western contenders. Manager Joe Cronin, the team's leading hitter, went to the hospital before the game started when he was cut on the cheek by a ball thrown by Pinky Higgins, his third baseman.

To make matters worse, Rick Ferrell, Wes' brother and battery mate, was clipped by a foul tip from Jesse Hills but in the eighth and had to retire for first aid. While the Senators were climbing nearer the idle St. Louis Browns and dropping the Red Sox into fourth place, the Athletics got an upward push in their first-place battle with the Yanks. The winning run clarified across the plate in the eighth inning when Bill Dickey, trying to catch Bob Johnson on a double steal, heaved the ball into left field.

The A's also got the benefit of seven-hit, seven-strikeout pitching by Lynn Nelson, one-time Cub finger, while they brought home, down to the 500 level with three victories and three defeats.

Lee was the hurdle that kept the Reds from sweeping their three-game series with Chicago, giving the Rhinelanders a meager six hits. Four bases on balls issued by Lloyd Moore and one by Ray Davis gave the Cubs their first run. Five hits off Davis and Lee Grissom, plus an error produced four more tallies in the seventh and eighth.

Green Bay Packers Sign Big Pitt Tackle

Green Bay, Wis.—(AP)—Averell Daniell, 215-pound tackle of the University of Pittsburgh has signed a contract for 1937 with the Green Bay Packers. National Professional football champions, Coach E. L. D. Heule, M. Potter, J. Wiegand, O. Milheiser and T. Tauschek. In the seventh and eighth grade league, the Yankees defeated the Giants in two out of three games in the playoff. Scores were 8-7 and 5-4 in favor of the Yankees with the opening game of the season won by the Giants, 16-12.

The Yankees lineup included G. Swamp, D. Knaack, G. Snow, B. Hoffmann, J. Pavers, D. Smith, N. Abel and J. Taggart. Members of the Giants team included M. Kain, J. DeShaney, G. Kain, G. Deeg, G. Forsteth, B. Kain, W. Koester, F. Fisher and N. Rusch.

Plans now are being made for the track and field meet between the Cubs and Cardinals. Athletics will be permitted to compete only in three events.

Golf New Deal in Sight As Big Ten Teams Clash

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
CHICAGO —(AP)—The Big Ten had a golfing new deal in sight today — after five straight years of Michigan domination.

The Wolverines, winner of every individual and team championship through the Johnny Fischer-Chuck Kocsis act which started in 1932, were still in the running for the 1937 team championship as the annual tournament went into its second and last day. But a couple of sophomores, Bill Plotz of Northwestern, and the latter's team, had a handsome start toward wrecking the Wolverine string.

Plotz, a 20-year-old pre-medical student at Madison, and Richardson, western junior champion and holder of a Chick Evans caddy scholarship, were tied for the leadership in the individual struggle with scores of 148 for 36 holes.

Northwestern, paced by Richardson, had a ten-stroke lead over the Wolverines for team honors, 612 to 622. Richardson compiled his 148 over a wind-pestered par 72 course yesterday by shooting 38-36-74 in the morning, and finishing with 35-39-74. Plotz, whose morning round was 33-40-73, followed up with 34-41-75. John David of Purdue, whose 38-35-73 gave him a tie with Plotz at 18 holes, slowed down to 42-36-78 in the afternoon, but was a comfortable third at 151.

Following Northwestern and Michigan in the team lineup were: Wisconsin 630; Illinois 642; Indiana 650; Purdue 651; Iowa 653; Ohio State 650; Minnesota 659; and Chicago 687.

Thirty-six hole scores included: Bill Plotz, Wisconsin, 73-75-148. John Jamieson, Wis., 86-80-166. Bob March, Wisconsin, 83-85-168. Hod Powell, Wis., 85-85-170.

"FEELS GRAND TO BE OUT OF THE 'ALL THREE' CLASS!"

"MY 117-INCH WHEELBASE NASH COST ME ONLY A FEW DOLLARS MORE THAN THOSE SMALLER CARS!"

Before you make any decisions...read this experience of Mr. Harry V. Kegeles

"Remember the old saying, 'What you don't know - don't hurt you?' Well, that fits me. I didn't realize how much I wanted a big car until I got one. The way my Nash LaFayette '400' gets away in traffic, the way it just hums along the road...the extra room in it...the substantial, luxurious 'feel' of it—it's hard for me to express just how pleased I am. Believe me, it feels grand to be out of the 'All Three' class!"

Six Stars to Show Friday, Saturday In Big 10 Tourney

Four of "Fastest Humans" And Two High Jump- ers are Entered

ANN ARBOR, MICH.—(AP)—Four of the "world's fastest humans" and two stars who have hit the present high jump ceiling will be among the track and field athletes competing next Friday and Saturday in the 37th annual Big Ten championships at historic Ferry field.

The six own or share three world records and a string of lesser marks. And they were expected to add to their laurels next week-end when they compete on the field where the famed Jesse Owens scored his great four-fold triumph in 1935.

Don Lash, Indiana distance star who holds nearly every record in the books for two miles, also will be defending his mile championship in the Western conference. On his heels in both events will be his "shadow," Tommy Deckard, a Hoosier teammate. Both were members of the 1936 Olympic team.

As Lash tops the track entries, so Ohio State's Negro high jump stars, Dave Albritton and Mel Walker, outshine the other luminaries in the field events. Albritton shares the world record of 6 feet, 9 1/2 inches, with Cornelius Johnson of Compton Junior college, and placed second in the 1936 Olympics, yet many track coaches say Walker is the better jumper.

On the day that Albritton and Johnson established their mark last season, Walker cleared the bar at the same height, but his hand landed it from the uprights as he started to descend. He equalled the record in college competition again this season, but his mark has not been recognized.

Indiana Suffers First
Big 10 Baseball Loss

Chicago—(AP)—Illinois had a great chance to take a first grip on the leadership of the Big Ten baseball title today.

The Illini faced the low-standing Purdue Boilermakers and were favored to win behind the pitching of the sensational sophomore, Ray Fos. A victory would give Illinois a record of seven wins and one defeat, with Indiana in second place with five victories in six starts and

Pegler Hits Another Argument Against Racing

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—This is one of my liberal days, and in that mood I have to admit that one of the principal arguments against dog-racing is no argument at all. I refer to the contention that the dog-tracks entice the poor and absorb money which otherwise might be spent for milk, meat and clothing.

It is true that the casual and intimate atmosphere of the dog-tracks attracts a class of people who somehow feel outclassed and unwelcome at the horse rings. It is true, also, that the dog-tracks operate at night when people with working-class jobs and women with household responsibilities have time to take the air and gamble whereas the horseplants do business only in the afternoon.

I will grant that fakery is a little more rife and ribald, if that is possible, in dog-racing than in horse-racing, and that the dog-people are more intimately connected with the underworld of crime.

However, the horse-people should have the decency to blush prettily when they decry the presence of racketeers in the dog business because everybody in the sport industry knows that certain horse tracks are owned and operated by felonious characters whose entire careers have been routed outside the law and that notorious crooks are allowed to run stables in the names of relatives.

And every community which has been host to a horse-track knows that race-meetings, even of the best, attract swindlers, pick-pockets and free-style thieves in large numbers.

The matter with which I quarrel is the assumption that the working-stiff and his wife have not the same right to throw away their money that other people have and needed big-bothering from a class of citizens who are held to be superior, including the grocer and the installment man.

The same thought is apparent in the crusade against the burlesque show which differs from the restaurant hide-show only in the price of admission. Burlesque is the poor man's meat opera and I would not argue that he goes there to think about the state of his soul or listen to the repertoire of the degenerate comedians. He goes to burlesque to ogle the naked women and give himself up to yearning which his wife would tell him to suppress, but that is precisely why the dress-up trade goes to precisely the same exhibitions in the expensive glamor plants which have not been officially molested.

It really doesn't make any difference what they wear. It has never been shown that the poor man is any less able to control his conduct after a burlesque show than a big spender after a night at the ringside and, judging from the divorce rate among our betters, I take it that these restaurant entertainments give people uncharted ideas even though they go in silks and satins, as the old song said.

If a poor man likes to watch the dogs run at night that should be his privilege as long as wealthier people are allowed to watch the horses go. If he wants to bet on the dogs in the same way that others bet on the steeds, that should be his privilege, too, and the interests of the tradesmen who clamor a sort of

Now that many communities have compromised their principles, waiving a little morality for the sake of the revenue, it is wrong to discriminate against the dogs in favor of the horses for no man can prove that a horse-race is better entertainment than a necessarily more honest, in fact, the opposition to the dogs almost invariably rests on the contention that the poor man can't afford his losses, which is true but immaterial.

Nobody at a horse-park is required to give a financial statement and prove that he can stand a loss, as a prior condition to a bet. Mr. La Guardia, of New York, has unwittingly endorsed the principle that it's the rich what gets the pleasure and the poor what takes the blame.
